Foreword

Lord Buddha’s teachings have been preserved for centuries through oral transmission by means of recitation. Since the Dhamma were not recorded in writing, disciples assembled regularly to recite together in concord. Variations in individual memories were not allowed to obscure the Buddha’s words. While chanting, devotees contemplate the Dhamma with peaceful minds, free from other tasks. Chanting also requires deep concentration. It is part of daily Dhamma practice. Thus, monks in every monastery routinely assemble to chant the words of the Buddha together in group recitation.

I am extremely delighted to have this ‘Traditional Pali Chants in English’ Book. It will permit international Dhamma devotees to take part in the recitation and to contemplate and help preserve the teachings of the Buddha. Because of the English translations, the book conveys the meaning as well as the sound of Lord Buddha’s teachings.

I would like to profoundly thank everyone who participated in the gargantuan mission to publish this book for their many varied contributions. I enthusiastically congratulate them all on this extremely successful achievement. They include Phra Yossaphat Khantidhammo, Watcharapol Daengsubha and Saranviphat Svetanan, to mention only a few. May Lord Buddha bless them all for their highly meritorious efforts.

Foreword

Two months after I became a monk, there were twelve Dhamma devotees from our neighbor country, Malaysia, coming to Wat Luang Phor Sodh Dhammakāyārām in order to ordain as monks and novices. During this occasion, I had a chance to work with my friends guiding the newcomers in various areas such as monk’s codes of conduct, dress code, common practices and chanting. Due to language differences, one of our major challenges was to provide the new monks with all chanting resources in Pāli (Roman letter) with English translation. Fortunately, through the resources we had, long hours of searching through several chant books, and researching on the internet, we were able to gather the translations for most of the chants we used regularly at our temple. However, the material was still incomplete and only seemed to be a temporary solution.

This made us aware of the importance of having our own Pali Chant book in English and we realized that it was the time to work on its publication. In fact, we actually already had our own Chant book, prior to this book, which was published in 1993 by Phra Walter Uttamapañño – his title at that time. Unfortunately, his work had not been revised since then. Nevertheless, his pioneer efforts inspired the writing of this current Chant book.

We decided to work on the Chant book from all existing resources we had gathered for the Malaysian monks and accumulate more information from various sources in order to accomplish our goal of publishing a Traditional Pali Chants Book in English that was similar to our Thai version. We hope that our efforts will help preserve the teachings of the Lord Buddha as well as spread it to Dhamma devotees throughout the world.

We would like to thank everyone for their diligent efforts and financial support. As well, congratulate them on this successful contribution to the growth of the Dhamma. May Lord Buddha bless you all and all of your meritorious deeds.

Acknowledgements

I used to wonder why we need to have this part of the book as it does not seem related to any of the content. Moreover, I was so positive that very few of us would spend time reading it. So, are there any reasons for the publishers to waste their time and resources in order to print this page that someone would merely spend his/her few seconds on? As I started to create this book, I began to realize that publishing a book is tremendously more challenging than I ever expected. With a great support and contributions from all Dhamma devotees this English chant book seems more within reach rather than struggling by oneself alone. Of this achievement, I feel deeply and sincerely indebted to all the devotees, and I would like to share this great appreciation as well as merits we have made towards all of them. So far, I have realized that without the ‘Acknowledgement’ I would have overlooked the touch of rejoicing and sharing along with the others - and that would be a shame.

Although there are far too many contributors to mention, I would like to give a special thanks to Venerable Yossaphat Khantidhammo and Venerable Nuthavuth Kittinampo for incomparable assistant including researching, translating, typing, proofreading and financing. I have to mentioned Venerable Phra Mahā Pijeth Kantajettho, Phra Mahā Adichok Sujoto and Phra Natpakanan Gunangkarō for very useful supporting materials. Thanks to Saranviphat Svetanan for very outstanding covers design and publication advices. Big thanks to Churdpong Daengsubha, Charinthip Thanakijboonsri, Supatchara Rajitpinyolert and Nandjânà Virunandmedhin for great translating supports. Thanks to Phra Khru Baitika Dr. Barton Yānathīro and Eunice Cerezo for proofreading. Special thanks to Jessica Dawn Ogden for proofreading, testing the book and all other supports. Also, I cannot leave out my parents and my family who have given me this life, introduced me to Buddhism and been my great unconditional supporters.

I present my deepest gratitude to the Buddha, the Dhamma and the Saṅgha for my lifetime refuges. May the Buddha, the Dhamma and the Saṅgha bless you all.

Introduction

Wat Luang Phor sodh Dhammakāyārām has become one of the most acknowledged spiritual destinations in Thailand, and the number of international practitioners has been growing. By great contributions of monks and laities, we seem have been able to deal with the new challenge by having meditation programs in English, publishing various books in English as well as creating online resources. However, one of the most important components was still missing – a complete Traditional Pali Chant book in English.

It was quite a difficulty not having our own materials for our incoming international students to participate during the chanting. Some parts of the ‘traditional Thai chants’, specifically the morning and evening chanting, are very similar throughout the country and worldwide whereas the other parts, Parittas and Sutras, can be selected to chant in random order. Because of this, problems may arise among those who are not accustomed with the chants when different chanting books are used as a reference. The new students would find it difficult to get to the right page of the chants. Moreover, many Thai reciters may not be able to recognize the chant’s titles in Roman alphabets; this prevents the Thai reciters from helping new students to look for the right chant in the English chanting books. Furthermore, some of the chants such as ‘Chaddanta Paritta’ and ‘premeditation service’ are hardly available in any other chanting books. Hence, international practitioners usually find it difficult to catch up with the majority and often exclude themselves in participating in this ritual.

Many had travelled a long distance and to missed a good opportunity to listen to and/or review Buddha’s teachings in his original words. This was a disappointment. By stepping into their shoes, we see that our compassion also had to be brought about in practice. For the above reasons and our sincere wish for international Dhamma devotees to get the most benefits from the chants, we made a solid action of support by publishing a complete chanting book in English.

We have set out to avoid problems of not finding the right page, not recognizing the chant’s titles in Roman alphabets and unavailability of some chants. Our aim was to create a complete Traditional Pali Chant book in English that is similar to the Thai version being used with all chants sorted by the same order. Thai titles are also printed on the table of content list and throughout the chanting book. This will allow Thai reciters to help newcomers find the right page.

While we were gathering data for the book, we found that several chanting books come with slightly different English translations. After all things considered, we decided to use the edition that was the most similar to our Thai chanting book, and for some chants that we could not find in Roman’s alphabet we agreed to convert them from Thai to Roman. The ‘Brief Introduction to Pali Chanting’ and ‘Chanting Etiquette’, which provide you with deeper ideas regarding the history, importance and general conducts of chanting and chanting instructions was inserted. As well as ‘The Buddhist’s Discipline’ and Beginning Meditation Practice’ in Appendix II and III for those who would like to broaden their understanding on good Buddhist conducts and meditation.

This book is made for general Dhamma devotees; therefore, some parts that are used only by monks, such as confession and blessing, are excluded in order to optimize our resources. International monks may ask their mentors for the extra copies of the rest. However, we decided to print the ‘ten kinds of Dhamma upon which a Bhikku should often reflect’, since it is a very interesting topic for laities to study as well.

Publishing this book required greater efforts and time than we had expected and had we known this, we may have reconsidered before taking on this project. Still, we strongly believe that this book is a vital component to resonate Buddhism out to others adding to the fact that it would benefit great numbers of people who like to study and practice Buddhism. Therefore, we would like to take this precious opportunity to take part in supporting Dhamma devotees from all over the world and present this as a gift to all of them since the gift of Dhamma excels all gifts.

The Three Admonitions or Exhortations of the Buddha (โอวาทปาฏิโมกขคาถา)
Brief Introduction to Pali Chanting

Chanting or the recital of sacred scriptures had been a practice amongst the Buddhists ever since the Buddha’s time. Initially, the teachings were not recorded in writing and it was carried down through the method known as oral tradition up to the Third Council at Asokarama in Pataliputta around 247 B.C.

This process of preserving the teachings through oral tradition has led to the emergence of a group of monks called ‘bhanakas’ or reciters. These reciter bhikkhus would constantly meet and chant the teachings together in concord so that if there exist any variation due to individual memories it would not be allowed to obscure the Buddha’s words.

Today, although there already exist written texts, nevertheless, the practice of chanting is still carried on for contemplation (reflective), and more popularly done for blessing and protective purposes. If any discourse or sermon is recited other than for the above causes then it is most probably done purely for traditional reasons.

Listening to the recitation of the Dhamma is a very important aspect of a Buddhist practice. It is the duty of the Saṅgha to preach the Dhamma ‘for the good, for the gain and for the welfare of gods and men’ (Vin.1:10 D2:43). As for the listeners it is in fact mentioned in the Maṅgala Sutta ‘hearing the Dhamma is the highest blessing’ (Dhammassavananā etam maṅgalamuttaman).

It is a belief that great merit can accrue to a person who listens to bana, i.e. the preaching or exposition of the Dhamma. It is said that the hearing of or the reading of one stanza of the bana, would be more meritorious than filling the bowl of the Buddha with the choicest food, or to offer in abundance oil, sugar, honey, etc. to mendicants, or to build thousands of Vinaras! But if a person does not attentively listen to the Dhamma and contemplate deeply, however great his knowledge may be, he cannot attain Nibbana. Such was the case with Sariyu (Sariputta)

1 Source: “pūjā Thai Traditional Chanting” (p.XXV - XXXV), Sungei Puyu Chanting Group, Wat Bodhicharoentham, Sungei Puyu, Malaysia
‘whose wisdom was as vast as the rain that falls during a whole KAPPA’, but was unable to attain Nibbana until he heard a stanza recited by Phra Assaji, and thereupon entered the Holy Path.

Paritta Chanting

The Pali word paritta, Sanskrit paritar, literally means ‘protection’ or ‘safety’. Hence paritta, is a collection of certain Buddhist texts which are recited or intoned by the Saṅgha or devotees. Individually or collectively, to ward off all evils and dangers; to act as the most potent of all safeguards against the malignant beings; and to bring about health, prosperity and blessings.

Origin and Early History

It has been suggested that the paritta chanting was adopted by the Buddha in lieu of the rakshanamantras (protective incantations of the Brahmanic religion). Here it should be brought to notice that whilst the rakshanamantras were composed of words of little importance in relation to moral and ethics – if not meaningless, the Buddhist parittas consist of ethical and philosophical original teachings of the Buddha. The word paritta first made its appearance in the Culla Vagga of the Vinaya Pitaka in connection with the Khanda Paritta which was ‘allowed’ by the Buddha ‘as a watch, a guard, a protection for oneself’ (Vin.Culla Vagga V.6 1). The incident that led to the origin of such a practice was the death of a certain monk through snake bite.

“Now, surely the Bhikkhu, O’ Bhikkhus, had not let his mettā (loving-kindness) flow out over the four royal breeds of serpents. Had he done so, he would not die of the bite of a snake…I allow you, O’ Bhikkhus to make use of a safeguard, for yourselves, for your security and protection, by letting your metta flow out over the four royal breeds of serpents” (Vin. V6:1).

The method employed in the above discourse was none the less than the recital of the ‘Khandha Paritta’. The efficacy of the paritta in this case consists of a profession of mettā or loving-kindness to the royal breed of snakes, and entreaty against beasts and a sincere prayer for the welfare of all beings.

“The profession of amity, according to Buddhist doctrine, was no mere matter of petty speech. It was to accompany and express a psychic suffusion of the hostile man or beast or spirit with benign, fraternal emotion – with metta. For strong was the conviction, from sutta and vinaya to Buddhaghosa’s Visuddhimagga that ‘thoughts are things’, that physical action, emotional or ‘intellectual, is capable of working like a force among forces’. Europe may yet come round further to this Indian attitude.” (Into. Dialogues of the Buddha Voll.III p186; C.A.F. Rhys Davids).

What Constitute Paritta?

Strictly speaking not all the suttas delivered by the Buddha can be considered parittas. It is only those that were personally sanctioned by the Buddha himself or related to some events during the Buddha’s time (which resulted in the recitation of paritta) in relation to incidents of protection by recital that could properly be considered as paritta. Most of the parittas commonly used today could be traced to the Five Nikayas.

Today one finds many other stanzas either as a form of homage, aspirations or for protection that are not found in the Tipitaka being recited. These verses were composed by Arahants and the Maha Theras, hence, giving to winder definition to the word ‘paritta’ which now covers all stanzas for protection.

The Efficacy of Paritta

For paritta chanting to be effective, five factors have to be considered.

1 Power of Truth (Saccakiriyā)

This means establishing oneself in the power of truth to gain one’s wish. The reciters relate some noble and pure deeds of the Buddha or the Arahants and bless the listeners with the words: “Etena saccavajjena sotthi te hotu sabbadā” (by the power of the truth of these words may you ever be well).

2 Power of Virtue (Silā)

The chanting will be even more effective if both the reciters and the listener are well established in virtue, that is, they keep their Precepts and follow the Dhamma (teachings). This is because the chanting is based on the principle that “The power of the Dhamma of Truth protects the person who imbibes the Truth” (Dhammo have rakkhati dhammacārīṃ).
3 Power of Loving-Kindness and Compassion (Mettā or Karuṇā)

The words of the Buddha are never empty of love and compassion. The reciters of the paritta are also expected to be filled with loving-Kindness and a calm mind for the chanting to be completely effective.

4 Power of sound

It is believed that the vibrations produced by the sonorous and mellifluous recital of the paritta are soothing to the nerves and produce peace and tranquility or mind, bring harmony to the physical system. However, this effect is heightened if the listeners know the meaning of the paritta they are listening to and mindfully reflect over them.

5 Symbolic presence of the Triple Gem

Although this is not an essential item to the efficacy, nevertheless its presence will enhance the saddhā of both the reciters and listeners. The casket containing the Buddha relics represent the Buddha, the scriptures inscribed on ola leaves represent the Dhamma and the Bhikkhus or monks reciters, the Saṅgha.

When Parittas Fail?

Although parittas are considered to be a never-failing potent and purifying force, there are, however, certain factors which may prevent the parittas from taking the desired effect. In answering the question put forth by King Milinda, the Venerable Nagasena said: “Due to three causes recital of parittas may have no effect: hindrance due to one’s kamma (kammavarana), hindrance due to defilements (kilesavarana) and lack of faith (asaddhanataya)” (Milf. IV2:19) The result of one’s evil kamma may be too strong for the recital to overcome especially when the listener’s mind is disturbed. If the listener’s mind is filled with impure thoughts, the beneficial effects of the recital may not occur. The listener should not lack faith. Hence, we can safely conclude that although great and effective is the power of paritta recital, yet the only true refuge is in one’s own kamma...
Due to the law of KAMMA, we are their Maker, their Heir, their Birthplace, their Attachment and their Pathway. We are destined to receive the results of what we have done, both good and evil.

Here it is proper to mention that while trying to create an impact on the sound effect on the listeners, five dangers will fall on him.

“These five dangers, O' Bhikkhus, befall him who sings the Dhamma with abrupt (ayatakena-gitas-sarena) transitions of song singing. He himself becomes captivated with respect to the sound thereof---other people become captivated with respect to the sound thereof---the laymen are shocked---the meditation of one who strains after accuracy in the sound is broken---the common people fall into heresy…

However, O' Bhikkhus I allow you, to intone (sarabhannam).” Vin.II 3:2

Styles of Chanting

In chants that serve as recitations, such as gathas, lessons, or prayers, the music is secondary to a clear projection of the text. These settings are predominantly syllabic (i.e. only one note a syllable) and use relatively few pitches. Some are used for auspicious (maṅgala) occasions, some for inauspicious (avamaṅgala) ones.

1 MAGADHA (Thai, MA-KHOD)

This is the Indian style of chanting mostly followed by the Sri Lankan and Myanmar Buddhists and the DHAMMAYUTTIKA order of Thailand. It tends to follow the phrasing of the text, i.e. the chant is done in phrases. The Thai Morning and Evening Chantings follow the MAGADHA or MAGOD style. This form is used for auspicious occasions.

2 SAMYOGA (Thai, SANG-YOG – “combined” method)

This is a rather low-pitched, slow and somewhat staccato but sustained style of chanting. The textual phrasing is not followed except pausing for breath (while others are continuing the chant).
This is the most common method used in most of the PARITTA recitation. This form is used for auspicious occasions.

3 SARABHAÑÑA (Thai, SA-RA-PHAN-YA – or traditional plain chant)
The Thai plain chant, however, employs a higher pitch of voice and slows down the speed of chanting, breaking it into phrases. This form is usually for chanting verses. Technically, it refers to the style of chanting allowed by the BUDDHA (VI:196 2:108 316). “Plain song” here generally refers to a whole collection of chanting styles or cantillation, of which, says the VINAYA Commentary, there are 32 modes (VA 1202). This form of chanting is used for both auspicious and inauspicious occasions, depending on the chants used.

4 SAÑGHA (Thai, SANG-KHA-HA) which literally means “convocation” or “council”, referring to group chanting. The chanting here is somewhat lengthened. The slow tempo of this style suits it for inauspicious occasions, but it is also used for auspicious occasions.

Chanting Instructions (Saṃyoga Style)
An easy way to chant the Saṃyoga style is by breaking the passages and verses. Use a pencil to cut at:
1) the long words
2) the nasal sounds
3) the labial sounds
4) the conjunct consonants which are usually ‘long-drawn’.

In the Saṃyoga style of chanting the comma and/or a period are ignored, i.e. one should not pause at the end of each sentence. It is not possible to chant every phrase and the reciter has to pause for breath while others are continuing the chanting.
Long vowels:    Ā Ī Ū E O
Nasal sounds:  N M eg, SAN/GHA, TAM
Labial sounds:  N Ń Ṇ M eg. VAN/DANĀ, PAÑ/ÑA KARUṆĀ, TAM
Conjunct consonants:  -KK- -GG- -NN-
                     -CC- -JJ- -NN-
                     -TT- -DD- -NN-
                     -PP- -BB-
                     -YY- -LL-
                     -SS-
Examples: BHIK/KHU, ANIC/CĀ, AT/THA, ANAT/TA, KUP/PA, NEY/YO, TAS/SA

In the Thai style of chanting 8 consonants of the 25 grouped (VAGGA) consonants are substituted as show in the brackets, e.g.

When the consonant H comes after another consonant, its preceding vowel is aspirated e.g. brahma becomes Brahm-ma.
When pronouncing the conjunct consonant ŃÑ the second Ń is substituted by Y whilst the first Ń remain unchanged, eg.

- PUÑÑA becomes PUN-YA
- KONDAÑÑA becomes KON-DAN-YA

The consonant S when used as a final consonant is substituted by T, e.g.

- TASSA becomes TAT-SA

Chanting etiquette

It is most important to have respect from inside; however, to facilitate the genuine cultivation of respect through chanting, it should be noted that respect while chanting is expressed not only with the voice, but also through the humility of our physical posture and our presence of mind. This section will present you the common Thai Buddhist chanting etiquette that will enable you to represent your modesty in a proper way according to the local culture.

Bowing postures – the five point prostration

The sort of bow used in the ‘five point prostration’ (touching the ground with five parts of the body: forehead, two arms and two legs) is a definitive physical expression of humility. To begin, gentlemen sit back on their raised heels in a kneeling position while ladies sit flat on the ‘uppers’ of their feet (see figure 1 and 2). The palms of the hands should be brought together to the chest. Keep head and back upright. This position is called ‘Añjali’. The second step, called ‘Vanda’, is to raise your hands with head bowed. With the end of the thumbs between the eyebrows till the end of index fingers, touch them to the forehead. The third step, called ‘Abhivād’, is to bent your body forward to touch the forehead to the floor, with the hands placed flat, palms down on either side of the temples. Please note that, for men, while bowing, their elbows should touch the front of their knees and, for women, their elbows should touch their knees from the side.

The ‘five point prostration’ should be done three times upon entering, once seated on the floor, and before leaving your seat. In other cases, bowing also punctuates certain sorts of chanting and used to pay respect to the temple leader – ‘Abbot’, before and after the meditation session. Please note that it is appropriate to have the monks bow three times to the Abbot first then followed by all laypeople (non monks) making a five point prostration three times. The reasons for this is that the Abbot (temple leader) needs to pay respect back to monks by bringing his hands together to his chest, which is called a ‘Wai’, and since the Abbot cannot ‘Wai’ laypeople because he holds higher precepts. Therefore, it is most appropriate to bow after the monks in this situation so that the ‘Abbot’ does not ‘Wai’ to the laypeople.
Humility of physical posture when chanting

There are two common postures that are used throughout the chants. While paying homage to the Triple Gem or asking for forgiveness reciters will chant while kneeling up in an ‘Añjali’ position. On the other hand, while chanting the Paritta reciters should be sitting down with feet to one side or in a mermaid position (see figure 3).
General Practices

Before entering the ground of the Meditation Vihara, please leave your shoes at the area provided and walk counterclockwise around the outside of the Vihara to the far entry. Do not go to the other side, because monks need that area to perform a regular confession, which is an internal ritual that should not be seen by laypeople.

Once entering the room please take a mat provided and sit at the very front row as possible to kindly provide spaces for those who come later; however, do not sit on the monks’ row. Do not sit on two mats in order to show respect to other reciters by not sitting higher than them. However, if you have physical limitations, please use chairs that are provided and sit at the very back of the chanting hall.

At Wat Luang Phor Sodh Dhammakayaram, male and female are advised to sit on a different side of a room to avoid all kind of distractions. If you find it difficult to chant along with the majority, you could still enjoy your time listening to the chants or studying the English translation. Some of the international reciters make the most of their time by practicing meditation while listening to the chants.

If the chanting begins before you arrive, please do not hesitate to participate; however, once entering please keep it as quiet as possible and make sure that all your communication devices are off.

It is very usual that some of the new practitioners might feel uncomfortable kneeling or sitting in the illustrated postures; however, it is also common to change posture during a chant. For example, people who weigh more than average would not be able to sit on their raised heels throughout the session; therefore, they would be advised to sit flat on the uppers of their feet or to sit in a mermaid position. Moreover, it is also common to switch legs from side to side while sitting in a mermaid position once discomfort is felt. When changing position, please be aware not to point your toes toward the Buddha’s images as pointing toes is considered to be rude or insulting posture in many of the Asian’s cultures. The recommended technique when changing position is to place your hands on the floor, slightly bending your body forward and raising your hip up. Then you can move your legs to another position without pointing your feet to the Buddha’s images and monks. Finally, do not point to or to move Dhamma books (including this one) with your feet for the same reason as above.

Although there are quite a number of things to remember, please keep in mind that it is a learning process that might be difficult at the beginning but you will catch up quickly as you keep practicing. Moreover, you are not only learning how to sit and bow but also develop a great mindfulness practice and to express your humility through your physical postures. It is acceptable if you make mistakes, but please remember lessons from them. It would be wonderful once you could do it like the majority; but, do not worry if you still have to work on it. As long as you have you have good intention, it is what's inside that counts.
Morning – Evening Chanting
In the main temple or chapel while the monk, who will lead the service, is placing the offerings (candles, incense and flowers) on the shrine before the Buddha image, the assembly should remain kneeling.

The three incense represent virtues of the Buddha, which are wisdom, purity and compassion. The two candles represent the Dhamma (Buddhist teachings) and the Vinaya (monastic rules). The flowers represent monks who come from different places, but still live together harmoniously under the same rules.

When the candles and the incense have been lighted and the flowers put in their places, the assembly, making a five-point prostration three times and then in the kneeling position, will chant the following preliminary Pāli passages of homage, phrase by phrase.

1. Ratanattaya Vandana

Salutation to the Triple Gem

(LEAD – FOLLOW)

Yo so bhagavā araham sammāsambuddho;

He is the Exalted One, far from defilements. Perfectly Enlightened by Himself;

Svākhāto yena bhagavatā dhammo;

The Teaching, well-proclaimed by the Exalted One;

Supatipanno yassa bhagavato sāvakasaṅgho;

The Order of Exalted One, which is of good conduct;

Tammayaṃ bhagavantam sadhammaṃ sasaṅgham; Imehi sakkārehi yathārahaṃ āropitehi abhipūjayāma.

To the Exalted One, that Teaching, that Order; honoring them as is proper, we render supreme homage.

Sādhu no bhante bhagavā suciraparinibbutopi;

Pacchimājanatānukampamānasā; Ime sakāre duggatapāṇnakārabhūte paṭiggaṇhātū,

It is well of us, venerable Sir, Exalted One so pure, having reached the Final Passing-away; (You still) have compassion on the later generations; those humble offerings design to accept, for lasting benefit and happiness.

Amhākaṃ digharattaṃ hitāya sukhaṃ.

---

1 The Triple Gem: The unification of Buddha, Dhamma and Saṅgha.
2 The Exalted One: The Fortunate One, a Pali term for addressing the Lord Buddha.
3 Defilements: Mental qualities that obscure the clarity and purity of the mind. There are three basic sorts: greed, anger and delusion. (Pāli: Kilesa)
4 Enlightenment: The state of perfect and pure mind, the mind without greed, hatred, and delusion.
5 Well-proclaimed: well taught. This covers both the scriptures (Pariyatti) and supra-mundane states. (Lokuttaradhamma)

The Blessed One is Worthy and Rightly Self-awakened.6 I bow down before the Awakened, Blessed One.

(Make the five-point prostration once)

Svākkhāto bhagavatā dhammo. Dhammaṃ namassāmi.

The Dhamma7 is well-proclaimed by the Blessed One. I pay homage to the Dhamma.

(Make the five-point prostration once)

Supaṭippanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho. Saṅghaṃ namāmi.

The Saṅgha8 of the Blessed One's disciples has practiced well. I pay respect to the Saṅgha.

(Make the five-point prostration once)

2. Pubbabhāganamakārapāṭha ปุพพบาทภักขศิลป์
The Preliminary Passage for Revering

LEADER:

[Handa mayaṃ buddhassa bhagavato pubba-bhāga-namakāram karoma se:]

Now let us chant the preliminary passage in homage to the Awakened One, the Blessed One:

ALL:

[Namo tassa] bhagavato arahato sammā-sambuddhassa. (Three times)

Homage to the Lord, the Emancipated, the All-Enlightened Buddha.

6 Lord Buddha was enlightened to all truths and leads all beings to seek enlightenment in those truths as well.
7 Dhamma: The law of nature, the teaching of the Buddha, the truth of what really is.
8 Saṅgha: In general, the community of those who practice the Buddhist way; on a deeper level, anyone who has attained one of the eight stages of enlightenment.
LEADER: [Handa mayaṃ buddhābhithutim karoma se:]

Now let us give high praise to the Awakened One:

ALL: [Yo so tathāgato] arahaṃ sammā-sambuddho,

He who has attained the Truth, the Worthy One, Rightly Self-awakened,

Vijjā-carana-sampanno sugato lokavidū, consummate in knowledge and conduct, one who has gone the good way, knower of the cosmos,

Anuttaro purisa-damma-sarathi satthā deva-manussānaṃ buddho bhagavā; unexcelled trainer of those who can be taught, teacher of human and divine beings; awakened; blessed;

Yo imaṃ lokam sadevakam samārakam sabrahmakam, Sassamaṇa-brāhmaṇīṃ pajam sadeva-manussaṃ sayam abhiṃnā sacchikatvā pavedesi.

who made known — having realized it through direct knowledge — this world with its devas⁹, māras¹⁰, and brahmās¹¹, its generations with their contemplatives and priests, their rulers and common people;

Yo dhammaṃ desesi adi-kalyāṇaṃ majjhe-kalyāṇaṃ pariyosāna-kalyāṇaṃ; who explained the Dhamma fine in the beginning, fine in the middle, fine in the end;

Sāttham sabyaṇjanaṃ kevala-paripuṇṇaṃ parisuddham brahmacariyaṃ pakāsesi.

⁹ Deva: deities or celestial beings
¹⁰ Māra: The evil one, death, the tempter. Māra includes (1) Māra of defilement, (2) of the aggregates, (3) of Karma- formations, (4) as deity and (5) as death.
¹¹ Brahman: A divine being of the form world or formless world.
who proclaimed the holy life both in its particulars and in its essence, entirely complete, surpassingly pure:

Tamahaṃ bhagavantaṃ abhipūjayāmi, Tamahaṃ bhagavantaṃ sırasā namāmi.

I worship most highly that Blessed One, to that Blessed One I bow my head down.

(Make the five-point prostration once)

4. Dhammābhithuti Doctrine of the Dhamma

Praise to the Dhamma

LEADER: [Handa mayaṃ dhammābhithutiṃ karoma se:

Now let us give high praise to the Dhamma:

ALL: [Yo so svākkhāto] bhagavatā dhammo,
The Dhamma well-proclaimed by the Blessed One,

Sandiṭṭhiko akāliko ehipassiko, to be seen for oneself, timeless, inviting all to come and see,

Opanayiko paccattaṃ veditabbo viññūhi:
leading inward, to be seen by the wise for themselves:

Tamahaṃ dhammaṃ abhipūjayāmi, Tamahaṃ dhammaṃ sırasā namāmi.

I worship most highly that Dhamma, To that Dhamma I bow my head down.

(Make the five-point prostration once)
5. Saṅghabhithuti ตั้งมาภิทิติ
Praise for the Saṅghā

LEADER: [Handa mayaṃ saṅghabhithutiṃ karoma se:]

Now let us give high praise to the Saṅghā:

ALL: [Yo so supaṭipanno] bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho,

The Saṅghā of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced well,

Uju-paṭipanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, the Saṅghā of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced straightforwardly,

Ñāya-paṭipanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, the Saṅghā of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced methodically, Sāmīci-paṭipanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, the Saṅghā of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced masterfully, Yadidaṃ cattāri purisa-yugāni aṭṭha purisa-puggalā:

i.e., the four pairs\textsuperscript{12} — the eight types — of Noble Ones:

Esa bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho —

That is the Saṅghā of the Blessed One's disciples —

Āhuneyyo pāhuneyyo dakkhiṇeyyo añjalī-karaṇyo, worthy of gifts, worthy of hospitality, worthy of offerings, worthy of respect,

Anuttaraṃ puṇñakkhettaṃ lokassa:

\textsuperscript{12} Noble Ones: Holy or noble persons. They are (1) One on the Path/(2) attained the Fruit of the Stream-Enterer, (3) One on the Path/(4) attained the Fruit of the Once-Returner, (5) One on the Path/(6) attained the Fruit of the Non-Returner, (7) One on the Path/(8) attained the Fruit of the Worthy One.
the incomparable field of merit for the world:

Tamaham saṅgham abhipūjayāmi,
Tamaham saṅgham sirasā namāmi.

I worship most highly that Saṅghā,
To that Saṅghā I bow my head down.

(Make the five-point prostration once)

6. Ratanattayappanāma Gāthā แทนต้ายพนณะภภาษา
Verses on Salutation to the Triple Gem and Passage for Dispassionateness

LEADER:

[Handa mayam ratanattayappanāma-gāthāyo ceva saṅvega-parikittanapāṭhaṅca bhaṅama se:]

Now let us recite the stanzas in salutation to the Triple Gem together with the passage on the topics inspiring a sense of chastened dispassion:

ALL:

[Buddho susuddho] karuṇā-mahāṅnavo,
Yoccanta-suddhabbara-ñāṇa-locano,
Lokassa pāpupakilesa-ghātako:
Vandāmi buddhām ahamā-dareṇa taṃ.

The Buddha, well-purified, with ocean-like compassion,
Possessed of the eye of knowledge completely purified,
Destroyer of the evils and corruptions of the world:
I revere that Buddha with devotion.

Dhammo padīpo viya tassa sattthuno,
Yo magga-pākāmata-bhedabhinnako,
Lokuttaro yo ca ta-dattha-dīpano:
Vandāmi dhammaṃ ahamā-dareṇa taṃ.

The Teacher's Dhamma, like a lamp, divided into Path13, Fruition14, and the Deathless15,

13 The Noble Eightfold Path: The fourth of the Noble Truths taught by the Buddha; the way leading out of suffering, consisting of (1) Right View, (2) Right Intention, (3) Right Speech, (4) Right Action, (5) Right Livelihood, (6) Right Effort, (7) Right Mindfulness and (8) Right Concentration.

14 Fruition: The fourth step in the progression of liberation, which includes the development of realizations and liberation.

15 The Deathless: The ultimate goal of the Noble Eightfold Path, which includes the cessation of suffering and the end of the cycle of rebirth.
both transcendent (itself) and showing the way to that goal:
I revere that Dhamma with devotion.

\begin{align*}
\text{Saṅgho sukhettaḥbyatikhetta-saṅnīto}, \\
\text{Yo dīṭṭha-santo sugatānubodhako}, \\
\text{Lolappahīno ariyo sumedhaso:} \\
\text{Vandāmi saṅghāṁ ahāmā-dārena taṁ.} \end{align*}
\]

The Saṅghā, called a field better than the best, who have seen peace, awakening after the one gone the good way, who have abandoned carelessness — the noble ones, the wise:
I revere that Saṅghā with devotion.

\[
\begin{align*}

\text{Puṇñaṁ mayā yaṁ mama sabbupaddavā,} \\
\text{Mā hontu ve tassa pabhāva-siddhiyā.}
\end{align*}
\]

By the power of the merit I have made in giving reverence to the Triple Gem worthy of only the highest homage, may all my obstructions cease to be.

7. Saṃvegāparikītanaṇṇapāṭha စီးယာဝပွဲမှာ
Passages conducive to Dispassionateness

[Idha tathāgato] \textit{loke uppanno araham sammā-sambuddho},

Here, one attained to the Truth, Worthy and Rightly Self-awakened, has appeared in the world,

\[
\begin{align*}
\text{Dhammo ca desito niyāṇiko upasamiko parinibbāniko} \\ \text{sambodhagāmi sugatappavedito.} \end{align*}
\]

And Dhamma is explained, leading out (of samsara\textsuperscript{16}), calming, tending toward total Nibbāna\textsuperscript{17}, going to self-awareness, declared by one who has gone the good way.

\textsuperscript{14} Phala: fruit; result; consequence; effect.
\textsuperscript{15} Nibbāna/Nirvāṇa
\textsuperscript{16} Samsāra: The rounds of repeatedly becoming, the cycle of birth, old age, sickness and death.
\textsuperscript{17} Nibbāna/Nirvāṇa: Literally, “extinction” (of greed, hatred and delusion).
Mayan-taṃ dhamaṃ sutvā evaṃ jānāma,

Having heard the Dhamma, we know this:

Jātipī dukkha jarāpi dukhā maraṇampi dukkhāṃ,

Birth is stressful, aging is stressful, death is stressful,

Soka-parideva-dukkha-domanassupāyāsāpi dukkha,

Sorrow, lamentation, pain, distress, and despair are stressful,

Appiyehi sampayogo dukkho piyehi vippayogo dukkho yampicchaṃ na labhati tampi dukkhāṃ,

Association with things disliked is stressful, separation from things liked is stressful, not getting what one wants is stressful,

Saṅkhittena pañcupādānakkhandhā dukkha,

In short, the five clinging-aggregates\(^{18}\) are stressful,

\[\text{Seyyathīdāṃ:}\]

\[\begin{align*}

\text{Viññāṅūpādānakkhandho.} & \quad \text{Consciousness as a clinging-aggregate.}
\end{align*}\]

\(^{18}\)The Five aggregates: the five groups of existence; the five casually conditioned elements of existence forming a being or entity, viz., corporeality, feeling, perception, mental formations and consciousness.

To counteract the touch of flies, mosquitoes, wind, sun, and reptiles;

Yāvadeva hirikopina-paṭicchādanatthaṃ.

Simply for the purpose of covering the parts of the body that cause shame.

Paṭisaṅkhā yoniso piṇḍapātam paṭīsevāmi,

Considering it thoughtfully, I use alms food,

Neva davāya na madāya na maṇḍanāya na vibhūsanāya,

Not playfully, nor for intoxication, nor for putting on bulk, nor for beautification,

Yāvadeva imassa āyassa ṭhitiyā yāpanāya vihiṃsaparatiyā brahmacariyānuggahāya,

But simply for the survival and continuance of this body, for ending its afflictions, for the support of the holy life,

26 Vihara: a dwelling-place (for monks); monastery, a temple; repository of Buddha images; Buddha-image hall; shrine-hall.
27 Stupa: A Buddhist monument, generally of a dome-shaped form, originally erected over sacred relics of the Buddha and at places consecrated as the scenes of his acts.
28 Thera: an elder; a senior member of the Order; a senior monk (of at least ten years’ standing).

may the earth, for the prosperity of beings bring them success; a mother and father always protect their own child, so according to the Dhamma, may the Kings always protect their subjects.]

29 Ariya: a noble individual; noble one; holy person.
The Lord Buddha taught that his Dhamma, when placed in the heart of an ordinary run-of-the-mill person, is bound to be thoroughly corrupted, but if placed in the heart of a Noble One, it is bound to be genuinely pure and authentic, something that at the same time can be neither effaced nor obscured. So as long as we are devoting ourselves merely to the theoretical study of the Dhamma, it can't serve us well. Only when we have trained our hearts to eliminate their 'chameleons' — their defilements — will it benefit us in full measure. And only then will the true Dhamma be kept pure, free from distortions and deviations from its original principles.

11. Vihāradāna Gāthā วิหารทานคาถา

[Sītaṃ unhaṃ paṭihanti] tato vāḷamigāni ca

Tato vāṭatapo ghoro saṅjāto paṭihaṅñatī.

They ward off cold and heat and beasts of prey from there and creeping things and gnats and rains in the wet season. When the dreaded hot wind arises, that is warded off. To meditate and obtain insight in a refuge and at ease:

Lenatthaṅca sukhatthaṅca jhāyitum ca vipassitum vihāradānanā saṅghassa aggaṃ buddhehi vaṇṇitam.

A dwelling-place is praised by the Awakened One as chief gift to an Order.

Tasmā hi paṇḍito poso sampassaṃ atthamattano vihāre kāraye ramme vāsayetha bahussute.

Therefore a wise man, looking to his own weal, should have charming dwelling-places built so that those who have heard much can stay therein.

Tesāṃ annaṅca pānaṅca vatthasenāsanāni ca dadeyya ujubhūtesu vippasannena cetasā.

To these food and drink, raiment and lodgings he should give, to the upright, with mind purified.

Te tassa dhammaṃ desenti sabbadukkhā-panūdanaṃ yañi so dhamma midhaṅṅāya parinibbā-tyanāsavoti.

(Then) these teach him Dhamma dispelling every ill; he, knowing that Dhamma, here attains Nibbāna, canker-less.

19. Saṅghābhīgīti ลำกิกิติ
Verses in Celebration of the Saṅghā

LEADER: [Handa mayaṃ saṅghābhīgītiṃ karoma se:]
Now let us chant in celebration of the Saṅgha:

[Saddhammajo] supaṭipatti-guṇādiyutto,
Yoṭṭhabbidho ariya-puggala-saṅgha-seṭṭho,
Silādidhamma-pavarāsaya-kāya-citto:
Vandāmahaṃ tamariyāna-gaṇaṃ susuddhaṃ.

Saṅgho yo sabba-pañīnaṃ Saṅgho dukkhassa ghātā ca
Tatiyānussatiṭṭhānaṃ Vidhātā ca hitassa me.
Saraṇaṃ khema-muttamaṃ Saranāṃ me sāmikissaro.
Vandāmi taṃ sirenahāṃ, I am the Saṅgha's servant, the Saṅgha is my sovereign master, the Saṅgho yo sabba-pañīnaṃ Saṅgha is a destroyer of suffering and a provider of welfare for Tatiyānussatiṭṭhānaṃ me.

The Saṅgha that for all beings is the secure, the highest refuge, the third theme for recollection: I revere it with my head.

Saṅghassāhasmi dāso (W: dāsi) va Saṅgho me sāmikissaro.
Vidhātā ca hitassa me.
I am the Saṅgha's servant, the Saṅgha is my sovereign master, the Saṅgha is a destroyer of suffering and a provider of welfare for me.
Saṅghassāhaṁ niyyādemī Sarīraṅjīvitaṅciddaṁ. Vandantoohaṁ (W: Vandantihaṁ) carissāmi Saṅghassopatipannaṁ.

To the Saṅgha I dedicate this body and this life of mine. I will fare with reverence for the Saṅgha’s good practice.

Natthi me saranāṁ aññaṁ, Saṅgho me saranāṁ varaṁ: Etena sacca-vajjena, Vaḍḍheyyaṁ satthu-sāsane.

I have no other refuge, the Saṅgha is my foremost refuge: by the speaking of this truth, may I grow in the instruction.

Saṅgham me vandamanena (W: vandamānāya) Yaṁ puññaṁ pasutam idha, Sabbe pi antarāyā me, Māhesuṁ tassa tejasā.

Through the power of the merit here produced by my reverence for the Saṅgha, may all my obstructions cease to be.

(Recite while making the five-point prostration:)

Kāyena vācāya va cetasā vā, Saṅgha kukammaṁ pakatam mayā yaṁ, Saṅgho paṭiggaṇhatu accayantaṁ, Kālantare saṁvarituṁ va saṅghe.

Whatever bad kamma I have done to the Saṅgha by body, by speech, or by mind, may the Saṅgha accept my admission of it, so that in the future I may show restraint toward the Saṅghā.

Reflection after Using the Requisites

LEADER: [Handa mayaṃ atīta-paccavekkhaṇa-pāṭham bhaṇāma se:]

Now let us recite the passage for reflection on the past (use of the requisites):

ALL: [Ajja mayā] apaccavekkhitvā yaṃ cīvaram paribhuttaṃ,

Whatever robe I used today without consideration,

Taṃ yāvadeva sītassa paṭighātāya,

Was simply to counteract the cold,

Uṇhassa paṭighātāya,

To counteract the heat,

Ḍaṁsa-makasa-vātātapa-siriṁsapa-samphassānaṃ paṭighātāya,

To counteract the touch of flies, mosquitoes, wind, sun, and reptiles;

Yāvadeva hirikopina-paṭičchādanatthaṃ.

Simply for the purpose of covering the parts of the body that cause shame.

Ajja mayā apaccavekkhitvā yo piṇḍapāto paribhutto,

Whatever alms food I used today without consideration,

So neva davāya na madāya na maṇḍanāya na vibhūsanāya,

Was not used playfully, nor for intoxication, nor for putting on bulk, nor for beautification,

Yāvadeva imassa kāyassa thitiyā yāpanāya vihiṁsaparatiyā brahma-cariyānuggahāya,

But simply for the survival and continuance of this body, for ending its afflictions, for the support of the holy life,
Iti purāṇaṇca vedanaṁ paṭihaṅkhāmi navaṇca vedanaṁ na uppādessāmi, (Thinking), Thus will I destroy old feelings (of hunger) and not create new feelings (from overeating).

Yātrā ca me bhavissati anavajjatā ca phāsu-vihāro cāti.

I will maintain myself, be blameless, and live in comfort.

Ajja mayā apaccavekkhitvā yaṁ senāsanam paribhuttoṁ,

Whatever lodging I used today without consideration,

Taṁ yāvadeva sītassa paṭighātāya,

Was simply to counteract the cold,

Uṇhassa paṭighātāya,

To counteract the heat,

Ḍaṃsa-makasa-vātātapa-sirīṃsapasamphassāṇam paṭighātāya,

To counteract the touch of flies, mosquitoes, wind, sun, and reptiles;

Yāvadeva utuparissaya-vinodanaṁ paṭisallānārāmatthaṁ.

Simply for protection from the inclemencies of weather and for the enjoyment of seclusion.

Ajja mayā apaccavekkhitvā yo gilāna-paccaya-bhesajja-parikkhāro paribhutto,

Whatever medicinal requisite for curing the sick I used today without consideration,

So yāvadeva uppanānaṁ veyyābdhikānaṁ vedanānaṁ paṭighātāya,

Was simply to counteract any pains of illness that had arisen,

Abyāpajjha-paramatāyāti.

And for maximum freedom from disease.

27. Maṅgala Paritta มังคลปริตร
The Discourse on Good Fortune

 Some leaders begin from the fifth stanza. ***

[Evam-me sutāṃ,] Ekaṃ samayam Bhagavā, Sāvatthiyaṃ viharati, Jetavanaṃ Anāthapiṇḍikassa, ārāme.

I40 have heard that at one time the Blessed One was staying in Savatthi at Jeta's Grove, Anathapindika's monastery.

Atha kho aññatarā devatā, abhikkantāya rattiya abhikkanta-vanṇā kevala-kappam Jetavanaṃ obhāsetvā, yena Bhagavā tenupasaṅkami.

Then a certain devata, in the far extreme of the night, her extreme radiance lighting up the entirety of Jeta's Grove, approached the Blessed One.

Upasaṅkamitvā Bhagavantaṃ abhivādetvā ekamantaṃ aṭṭhāsi. Eka-mantaṃ thitā kho sā devatā Bhagavantaṃ gāthāya ajjhabhāsi.

[Pause]

On approaching, having bowed down to the Blessed One, she stood to one side. As she was standing there, she addressed a verse to the Blessed One.

"Bahū devā manussā ca maṅgalāni acintayuṃ Ṭaṅkhamaṇā sotthānaṃ brūhi maṅgala-muttamaṃ."

"Many devas and human beings give thought to good fortune, Desiring well-being. Tell, then, the highest good fortune."

40 Ānanda: A cousin of the Buddha. Ānanda accompanied the Buddha for more than twenty years and was the Master's favorite disciple. He was famed for his excellent memory and recited the Sutra-Pitaka (the sermons contained in the Tripitaka, q.v.) at the First Buddhist Council.

Saggese vā yaṃ ratanaṃ paṇītaṃ,
Na no samaṃ athi tathāgatena.
Idam-pi buddhe ratanaṃ paṇītaṃ
Etena saccena suvatthi hotu.

Whatever wealth in this world or the next, whatever exquisite treasure in the heavens, is not, for us, equal to the Tathagata. This, too, is an exquisite treasure in the Buddha. By this truth may there be well-being.

The eight persons – the four pairs – praised by those at peace, they, disciples of the One Well-Gone, deserve offerings. What is given to them bears great fruit. This, too, is an exquisite treasure in the Saṅgha. By this truth may there be well-being.

Those who, devoted, firm-minded, Apply themselves to Gotama’s message, on attaining their goal, plunge into the Deathless, freely enjoying the Liberation they have gained. This, too, is an exquisite treasure in the Saṅgha. By this truth may there be well-being.

Ended the old, there is no new taking birth. Dispassioned their minds toward further becoming, they, with no seed, no desire for growth, the wise, they go out like this flame.

This, too, is an exquisite treasure in the Saṅgha. By this truth may there be well-being.

Sabbe bhadrāni passantu
Sabbe bhūtā ca kevalā
Mā kiñci pāpa-māgamā.

May all creatures, all breathing things, all beings – each and every one – meet with good fortune. May none of them come to any evil.

Pamāṇa-vantāni siriṃ-sapāni Ahi vicchikā sata-padi uṇṇānabhī sarabū mūśikā.

The Buddha, Dhamma, and Saṅgha are limitless. There is a limit to creeping things – snakes, scorpions, centipedes, spiders, lizards, and rats.

I have made this protection, I have made this spell. May the beings depart. I pay homage to the Blessed One, homage to the seven Rightly Self-awakened Ones.
31. Mora Paritta โมรปริตร
The Peacock’s Protection

 The first part will be chanted in the morning. ***

Udetayaṅcakkhumā eka-rājā Harissa-vaṇṇo paṭhavippabhāso.

The One King, rising, with vision, Golden-hued, illumining the Earth:

Taṃ taṃ namassāmi harissa-vaṇṇaṃ paṭhavippabhāsaṃ.
Tayajja guttā viharemu divasaṃ.

I pay homage to you, Golden-hued, illumining the Earth.
Guarded today by you, may I live through the day.

Ye brāhmaṇā vedagu sabba-dhamme,
Te me namo. Te ca maṃ pālayantu.

Those Brahmans who are knowers of all truths,
I pay homage to them; may they keep watch over me.

Namatthu buddhānaṃ namatthu bodhiyā.
Namo vimuttānaṃ namo vimuttiyā.

May my homage be to the Buddhas, to their Enlightenment. May my homage be to those supremely secure from bondage and to their deliverance.

Imaṃ so parittaṃ katvā Moro carati esanā.

Having made this protection, the peacock sets out in search for food.

 The second part will be chanted in the evening. ***

Apetayaṅcakkhumā eka-rājā Harissa-vaṇṇo paṭhavippabhāso.

The One King, setting, with vision, Golden-hued, illumining the earth:

Taṃ taṃ namassāmi harissa-vaṇṇaṃ paṭhavippabhāsaṃ.
Tayajja guttā viharemu rattim.

I pay homage to you, Golden-hued, illumining the Earth.
Guarded today by you, may I live through the night.
Ye brāhmaṇā vedagu sabba-dhamme,
Te me namo te ca maṇi pālayantu.

Those Brahmans who are knowers of all truths,
I pay homage to them; may they keep watch over me.

Namatthu buddhānāṃ namatthu bodhiyā

The great elephant, Chaddanta Bodhisatta, caught a hunter and had a will to kill. However, once it saw the flag (robe) of the Enlightened one, (although, the great elephant was suffering from the hunter’s arrows) it realized that “a victory flag of the Enlightened one must not be destroyed”.

Sallena viddho byathitopi santo

Although the Bodhisatta was injured from arrows and was supposed to be trembling, he remained calm and had no will to harm the robe. Through the truth of the great elephant may all dangers in the jungle cease to be.

The Baby Quail’s Protection

Atthi loke sīla-guṇo  Saccaṃ soceyyanuddayā.
Tena saccena kāhāmi  Sacca-kiriya-manuttaraṃ.

There is in this world the quality of virtue, truth, purity and tenderness. In accordance with this truth I will make an unsurpassed vow of truth.

Āvajjitvā dhamma-balāṃ  Saritvā pubbake jine
Sacca-balā-mavassāya  Sacca-kiriya-makāsahaṃ.

Sensing the strength of the Dhamma, calling to mind the victors of the past, in dependence on the strength of truth, I made an unsurpassed vow of truth:

Santi pakkhā apattanā  Santi pāda avañcanā
Mātā pitā ca nikkhantā  Játa-veda paṭikkama.

Here are wings with no feathers, here are feet that cannot walk. My mother and father have left me. Fire, go back!

Saha sacce kate mayhāṃ  Mahāpajjalito sikhī
Vajjesī śāla karīsāni  Udakaṃ paṭvā yathā sikhī.

When I made my vow with truth, the great crested flames avoided the sixteen acres around me as if they had come to a body of water.

Saccena me samo natthi  Esā me sacca-pāramīti.

My truth has no equal, such is my perfection of truth.

The Banner Protection

[Evamme sutam,] Ekam samayam Bhagava sagatthiyaam viharati
Jetavane anathapiindikassa arame. Tatra kho Bhagava bhikkhu Amantesi bhikkhavoti. Bhadanteti te bhikkhu Bhagavato paccassosum.
Bhagava etadavoca: [Pause]

Thus have I heard. At one time the Exalted One was staying at Savatthi in Prince Jeta’s Grove, in the park of Anathapindika. Then the Exalted One spoke thus to the Bhikkhus, “O Bhikkhus.” Those Bhikkhus replied to the Exalted One, “Lord.” The Exalted One then said:

Bhutapubbaam bhikkhave devasurasangaamo samupabyulho
Ahosi. Atha kho bhikkhave sakko devanaminda deve tavatime
Amantesi: Sace marisa devanaangamagataanaam uppat-jeeyya

Atha isanssa devarajassa dhajaggam ullokeyathaa, Isanssa hi vo deverajassa dhajaggam ulokayataam yambhavissati bhayaam v chamhitattaam v lomahamsa va so pahiyyissati.

Long ago, Bhikkhus, a battle was raging between the Gods and the titans. Then Sakra\textsuperscript{44}, ruler of the Gods, addressed the thirty-three Gods, saying, “If in you, dear sirs, when you have gone into battle, fear, panic and creeping of the flesh should arise, look up at the crest of my banner. If you do so, any fear, panic and tingling flesh that arise will be overcome.
If you do not look up to the crest of my banner, look at the crest of the banner of Pajapati, king of the Gods. If you do so any fear, panic and ningling flesh that may arise will be overcome. If you do not look up to the crest of the banner of Pajapati, king of Gods, look at the crest of the banner

\textsuperscript{44} see \textsuperscript{33} Indra:
of Varuna, king of Gods. If you do so, any fear, panic and tingling flesh that may arise will be overcome. If you do not look up to the crest of the banner of Varuna, king of Gods, look at the crest of the banner of Isana, king of Gods. If you do so, any fear, panic and tingling flesh that may arise will be overcome.”

Tañ kho pana bhikkhave sakkassa vā devānamindassa dhajaggam ullokayatām, Pajāpatissa vā Devarājassa dhajaggam ullokayatām, Varuṇassa vā Devarājassa dhajaggam ullokayatām, Īsānassa vā Devarājassa dhajaggam ullokayatām, Yambhavissati bhayaṃ vā cham-bhitattāṃ vā lomahaṃso vā, So pahiyyethāpi nopi pahiyyetha. Taṃ kissa hetu? Sakko hi bhikkhave devānamindo avītarāgo Aṭitadoso avitamoho, Bhiru chambhī utrāsi palāyīti.

Now Bhikkhus, in them that look up to the crest of one or other of these four banners, any fear, panic and tingling flesh that you may have may be overcome, or again it may not. And why is this so? Because Sakra, ruler of the Gods, is not purged of passions, hatred and ignorance. He is timid, given to panic and to fright and running away.

Ahañca kho bhikkhave evaṃ vadāmi: Sace tumhākaṃ bhikkhave araṇṇagatānaṃ vā rukkhamūlagatānaṃ vā suṇāgāra-gatānaṃ vā uppajjeyya bhayaṃ vā cham-bhitattaṃ vā loma-haṃso vā mameva tasmiṃ samaye anussareyyātha. [Pause]

But I say thus unto you, Bhikkhus, if you when you have gone into forests, to the roots of trees, to trees, to empty places, and fear, panic and goose-flesh should befall you, you in that hour only call me to mind and think:

Itipi so bhagavā arahāṃ sammāsambuddho, Vijjācaranā-sampanno sugato lokavidū, Anuttaro purisadammasārathi, Satthā deva-manussānaṃ buddho bhagavātī. Mamaṃ hi vo bhikkhave anussaratāṃ yambhavissati bhayaṃ vā cham-bhitattaṃ vā lomahaṃso vā so pahiyyissati.

He is indeed the Exalted One, far from defilements, Perfectly Enlightened by Himself, fully possessed of wisdom and (excellent) conduct, One who has proceeded by the good way, knower of worlds, unexcelled trainer of tamable men, teacher of deities and men, the Awakened One, the Lord Bhikkhus, any fear, panic and tingling of the flesh that you may have will be overcome.
No ce maṃ anussareyyātha, Atha dhammaṃ anussareyyātha: Svākkhāto bhagavatā dhammo, Sanditṭhiko akāliko ehipassiko, Opanayiko paccattaṃ vedi-tabbo viññūhīti. Dhammaṃ hi vo bhikkhave anussaratam yambhavissati bhayaṃ vā chambhitattaṃ vā lomahamso vā, So pahiyyissati.

And if you cannot call me to mind, then call to mind the Dhamma and think, well-proclaimed is the Exalted One’s Dhamma, to be seen for oneself, not delayed in time, (inviting one to) come and see, leading inwards, to be seen by each wise man for himself. For if you call the Dhamma, then your fear, panic and creeping of the flesh will disappear.

No ce dhammaṃ anussareyyātha, Atha saṅghaṃ anussareyyātha: Supaṭippanno bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, Ujupaṭippanno bhagavato sāvakasaṅgho, Nāya-paṭippanno bhagavato sāvakasaṅgho, Sāmīcīpaṭippanno bhagavato sāvakasaṅgho, Yadidaṃ: cattāri purisayugāni, Aṭṭha purisapuggalā, Esa bhagavato sāvaka-saṅgho, Ahu-neyyo pāhuneyyo dakkhineyyo añjalikaraṇiyo, Anuttaraṃ puññakkhettaṃ lokassāti. [Pause]

And if you cannot call the Dhamma to mind, then call to mind the Order, and think, the Saṅgha of the Exalted One’s disciples who have practiced well, the Saṅgha of the Exalted One’s disciples who have practiced straightly, the Saṅgha of the Exalted One’s disciples who have practiced rightly, the Saṅgha of the Exalted One’s disciples who have practiced properly; that is to say, the four pairs of men, the eight types of persons, that is the Saṅgha of the Exalted One’s disciples, worthy of hospitality, worthy of offerings, who should be respected, the incomparable field of merit, wisdom, for the world.

Saṅghaṃ hi vo bhikkhave anus-saratam yambhavissati bhayaṃ vā chambhitattaṃ vā loma-hamso vā, So pahiyyissati. Taṃ kissa hetu? Tathāgato hi bhikkhave araham sammāsambuddho, Vītarāgo vītadoso vitamoho, Abhīru acchambhi anutrāsi apalāyīti.

For if you so call the Order to mind, your fear, panic and tingling flesh will disappear. And why is this so? Because the Tathagata, my disciples, is Arahant, Perfectly Enlightened, purged of passion, hatred and ignorance; is without timidity, panic or fright and fleeth not.
Idamavoca bhagavā. Idāṃ vatvāna sugato, Athāparaṃ etadavoca satthā:

Thus said the Exalted one, and the Blessed One and Master spoke yet again,

Araññe rukkhamūle vā Suññāgāreva bhikkhavo
Anussaretha sambuddhaṃ Bhayaṃ tumhāka no siyā.

Whenever in forests or in leafy glades or lonely and empty places you abide, call to your mind, Bhikkhus, the Enlightened One; no fear, no sense of peril will you know.

No ce buddhaṃ sareyyātha Lokajeṭṭhaṃ narāsabhaṃ
Atha dhammaṃ sareyyātha Niyyānikaṃ sudesitam.

Or if you cannot think on the Buddha, the most senior of the world, the Bull of men – then call the Dhamma to mind, the much used guide;

No ce dhammaṃ sareyyātha Niyānikaṃ sudesitam.
Atha saṅghaṃ sareyyātha Puññakkhettaṃ anuttaraṃ

Or if you cannot think upon the Dhamma, the well-taught doctrine wherein guidance lies, then turn your thoughts to the Fraternity, the unrivaled field, it is where men may sow good seeds.

Evambuddhaṃ sarantānaṃ Dhammaṃ saṅghaṅca
Bhayaṃ vā chambhitattaṃ vā Bhikkhavo
Lomahamso na hessatīti.

If you in Buddha, Dhamma and Saṅgha thus take refuge, then fear, panic and creeping of the flesh will never appear.

Homage to the Seven Past Buddhas

Vipassissa namatthu Cakkhumantassa sirīmato.
Sikhissa pi namatthu Sabba-bhūtānukampino.

Homage to Vipassi, possessed of vision and splendor. Homage to Sikhī, sympathetic to all beings.

Vessabhussa namatthu Nhātakassa tapassino.
Namatthu Kakusandhassa Māra-senappamaddino

Homage to Vesabhū, cleansed, austere. Homage to Kakusandha, crusher of Mara's host.

37. Bojjhaṅga Paritta 佛陀行法梨特

The factors for Awakening include mindfulness, investigation of qualities, persistence, rapture, serenity, concentration and equanimity. These seven, which the All-seeing sage has rightly taught, when developed and matured, bring about heightened knowledge, Liberation, and Awakening. By the saying of this truth, may you always be well.

At one time, our Protector – seeing that Moggallana and Kassapa were sick and in pain – taught them the seven factors for Awakening. They, delighting in that, were instantly freed from their illness. By the saying of this truth, may you always be well.

The Factor-of-Awakening Protection

[Namō tassa] bhagavato arahato sammā-sambuddhassa. (Three times)

Homage to the Blessed One, the Worthy One, the Rightly Self-awakened One.

He is a Blessed One, a Worthy One, a Rightly Self-awakened One, consummate in knowledge and conduct, one who has gone the good way, knower of the cosmos, unexcelled trainer of those who can be taught, teacher of human and divine beings, awakened, blessed.

---

45 Lord Buddha is Arahām for five reasons: he (1) is free from defilements, (2) is the victor over all enemies (the defilements), (3) has broken the wheel of life (the cycle of rebirth), (4) is worthy of gifts (such as the four requisites of food, clothing, shelter and medicine) and (5) has never committed an unwholesome act in secret.

46 Lord Buddha is called Sammā-sambuddho because he is fully self-enlightened in all Dhamma which should be (1) known with the highest wisdom, (2) determined, (3) avoided, (4) penetrated and (5) developed.

47 Lord Buddha is called Vijjā-carāna-sampanno because he is perfect in both knowledge and conduct. Perfect in knowledge means Lord Buddha has attained both the Threefold (Vijjā 3) and the Eightfold Transcendent Knowledge (Vijjā 8).

48 Lord Buddha is called Sugato for four reasons. He has (1) completed travelling the Noble Path, (2) gone to the Noble Place (Nirvana), (3) gone Rightly and (4) practiced Right Speech.

49 Lord Buddha is named Lokavitī because he has thoroughly penetrated the world of formation in every way. He has penetrated knowing the (1) true worldly condition (Lokadhāmma), (2) the cause (Samudaya), (3) the cessation (Nirodha) and (4) the means of cessation (Nirodhopāya).

50 Anuttaro means Lord Buddha is unexcelled or ultimate. No one is higher or comparable in the virtues of morality (Sīla), concentration (Samādhi), wisdom (Paññā), emancipation (Vimutti) and prefect knowledge of emancipation (Vimuttiñāṇadassana).

51 Satthā means a teacher or a master in the sense that Lord Buddha teaches virtues conductive to benefits in the present life (Diṭṭhadhammikattha), future lives (Samparāyikattha) as well as to the ultimate (Paramattha) benefit of Nirvana.
Svākkhāto bhagavatā dhammo, Sandiṭṭhiko akāliko ehipassiko, Opanayiko paccattaṁ veditabbo viññūhīti.

The Dhamma is well-proclaimed by the Blessed One, to be seen for oneself, timeless, inviting all to come and see, leading inward, to be seen by the wise for themselves.

The Saṅgha of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced well, the Saṅgha of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced straightforwardly, the Saṅgha of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced methodically, the Saṅgha of the Blessed One's disciples who have practiced masterfully, i.e., the four pairs – the eight types – of Noble Ones.

The term Devamanussānaṃ means Lord Buddha is the teacher of celestial beings and humans. He teaches celestial beings including angels and Brahmanas as well as humans and animals.

Lord Buddha is called Buddhho because he enlightened to all Dhammas with Omniscient Knowledge (Sabbaññuttañāna or Buddhañāna) and all truths and leads all beings to seek enlightenment in those truths as well.

Lord Buddha is Exalted Sage (Bhagavā). The word “Bhagavā” has many meanings and some of the most important ones are that he is (1) the utmost teacher of all beings, (2) the revered teacher, worthy of respect, (3) the Blessed One the fortunate one succeeding to enlightenment due to the great store of past merit and etc.

Svākkhāto means well taught. This covers both the scriptures (Pariyatti) and supra-mundane states (Lokuttaradhamma), but the following terms such as Sandiṭṭhiko only refer to supra-mundane states.

A noble disciple in the process of destroying the defilements such as lust will see the Noble Path by himself. Thus, the Noble Path is Sandiṭṭhiko. Each individual can penetrate it for himself or herself.

The supra-mundane Dhamma of the Noble Paths has no delay in bearing fruit, thus, it is called Akāliko. The individual attains results successively at each Noble Disciple state.

The nine supra-mundane states are Ehipassiko because they are the truth and pure like a full moon in a cloudless sky or a jewel on a piece of fine linen. They can be seen clearly because they are natural and pure.

Supra-mundane states are worthy of bringing into one's own mind, so they are called Opanayiko. The Pāli term Upanaya means bring. Both worldly states (Saṅkhata) and supra-mundane (Asaṅkhata), Paths and Fruits and Nirvana are worthy to be brought inside by penetration and meditation.

These supra-mundane Dhammas can be directly experienced by wise persons who can understand for themselves when they are on the Path, when they have attained the Fruit and when they have penetrated to the cessation of suffering. Supra-mundane states can be seen only by each individual's own mind. Therefore, they are for the wise, not for foolish.

Suptipanno means of good conduct. The Noble Ones on the supra-mundane noble path or the Noble Ones who attained one of the supra-mundane fruits are called Supatipanno.

They are called Uju-patipanno because they follow the middle path, avoiding the extremes of sensual indulgence (Kāmasukhallikānyūyoga) and self-mortification (Attakilamathānuyoga) and because they avoid all evil conduct in action, in word and in thought.
This is the Saṅgha of the Blessed One's disciples – worthy of gifts\(^{62}\), worthy of hospitality\(^{63}\), worthy of offerings, worthy of respect\(^{64}\), the incomparable field of merit for the world\(^{65}\).

\(^{62}\) Āhuneyyo means disciples who are worthy of receiving such objects because their fruits (Phala) are advanced.

\(^{63}\) Pāhuneyya refers to things one prepares well for loved guests, relatives and friends who come from different directions. Those things should be offered only to the disciples, except for friends or relatives, because no other guests can compare in worthiness to these disciples.

\(^{64}\) Noble Ones deserve the highest reverence that humans can show by placing their hands with palms together over their heads. This is called Añjalikaranīyo, being worthy of reverence.

\(^{65}\) Anuttaram puñnakkhetam lokassa means Noble Ones are like an excellent rice paddy field for all beings. This means that monks are the place for all world beings to plant their seeds of merit and reap a great harvest.
Nāḷāgirī, the excellent elephant, when maddened, was very horrific, like a forest fire, a flaming discus, a lightning bolt. The Lord of Sages defeated him by sprinkling the water of good will. By the power of this, may you have victory blessings.

Very horrific, with a sword upraised in his expert hand, Garlanded-with-Fingers ran three leagues along the path. The Lord of Sages defeated him with mind-fashioned marvels. By the power of this, may you have victory blessings.

Having made a wooden belly to appear pregnant, Ciñca made a lewd accusation in the midst of the gathering. The Lord of Sages defeated her with peaceful, gracious means. By the power of this, may you have victory blessings.

44. Dhamma-cakkappavattana Sutta รัมแม้นกับปัฏฏจฉัตร

[Evam-me sutāṁ,] Ekaṁ samayaṁ Bhagavā, Bārāṇasiyaṁ viharati isipatane migadāye. Tatra kho Bhagavā pañca-vaggiye bhikkhū āmantesi.

I have heard that on one occasion the Blessed One was staying at Varanasi in the Game Refuge at Isipatana. There he addressed the group of five monks:

"There are these two extremes that are not to be indulged in by one who has gone forth – that which is devoted to sensual pleasure in sensual objects: base, vulgar, common, ignoble, unprofitable; and that which is devoted to self-affliction: painful, ignoble, unprofitable.
Avoiding both of these extremes, the middle way realized by the Tathagata – producing vision, producing knowledge – leads to calm, to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to unbinding.

Katamā ca sā bhikkhave majjhima pāti-padā tathāgatena abhisambuddhā, Cakkhu-karaṇī nāṇa-karaṇī upasamāya abhiññāya sambodhāya nibbānāya saṁvattati.

And what is the middle way realized by the Tathagata that – producing vision, producing knowledge – leads to calm, to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to unbinding?
Aya-meva ariyo atthaṅgiko maggo, Seyyathidaṁ, Sammā-bhikkhave magjhima paṭipada tathāgatena abhisambuddhā, Cakkhu-karāṇī āna-karaṇī upasamāya abhiññāya sambodhāya nibbānāya saṃvattati.

Precisely this Noble Eightfold Path, right view, right resolve, right speech, right action, right livelihood, right effort, right mindfulness, right concentration. This is the middle way realized by the Tathagata that – producing vision, producing knowledge – leads to calm, to direct knowledge, to self-awareness, to Unbinding.

Now this, monks, is the noble truth of stress: birth is stressful, aging is stressful, death is stressful, sorrow, lamentation, pain, distress, and despair are stressful, association with things disliked is stressful, separation from things liked is stressful, not getting what one wants is stressful, In short, the five clinging-aggregates\(^{71}\) are stressful. And this, monks, is the noble truth of the origination of stress: the craving that makes for further becoming – accompanied by passion and delight, relishing now here and now there – i.e., craving for sensual pleasure, craving for becoming, craving for no-becoming. And this, monks, is the noble truth of the cessation of stress: the remainderless fading and cessation, renunciation, relinquishment, release, and letting go of that very craving. And this, monks, is the noble truth of the way of practice

\(^{71}\) see 18 The Five aggregates leading to the cessation of stress: precisely this Noble Eightfold Path – right view, right resolve, right speech, right action, right livelihood, right effort, right mindfulness, right concentration.

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This is the noble truth of the origination of stress.' Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the origination of stress is to be abandoned.' Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the origination of stress has been abandoned.'
Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This is the noble truth of the cessation of stress.'

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the cessation of stress is to be directly experienced.'

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the cessation of stress has been directly experienced.'

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This is the noble truth of the way of practice leading to the cessation of stress.'

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the way of practice leading to the cessation of stress is to be developed.'

Vision arose, insight arose, discernment arose, knowledge arose, illumination arose within me with regard to things never heard before: 'This noble truth of the way of practice leading to the cessation of stress has been developed.'
Yāvakīvañca me bhikkhave imesu catūsu ariya-saccesu, Evan-ti-parivaṭṭam dvādasākāram yathābhūtaṁ ūśa-dassanaṁ na suvisuddham ahosi, Neva tāvāham bhikkhave sadevake loke samārake sabrahmake, Sassamaṇa-brāhmaṇiyā pajāya sadeva-sambhaṇnati, Anuttaram sammā-sambodhiṁ abhisambuddho paccaññāsiṁ.

And, monks, as long as this knowledge and vision of mine – with its three rounds and twelve permutations concerning these four noble truths as they actually are – was not pure, I did not claim to have directly awakened to the right self-awakening unexcelled in the cosmos with its deities, Maras, and Brahmās, with its contemplatives and priests, its royalty and common people.

Yato ca kho me bhikkhave imesu catūsu ariya-saccesu, Evan-ti-parivaṭṭam dvādasākāram yathābhūtaṁ ūśa-dassanaṁ suvisuddham ahosi, Athāham bhikkhave sadevake loke samārake sabrahmake, Sassamaṇa-brāhmaṇiyā pajāya sadeva-manussāya, Anuttaram sammā-sambodhiṁ abhisambuddho paccaññāsiṁ. Ūśa pana me dassanaṁ udapādi, Akuppā me vimutti, Aya-mantimā jāti, Natthidāni punabbhavoti."

But as soon as this knowledge and vision of mine – with its three rounds and twelve permutations concerning these four noble truths as they actually are – was truly pure, then I did claim to have directly awakened to the right self-awakening unexcelled in the cosmos with its deities, Maras, and Brahmās, with its contemplatives and priests, its royalty and common folk. The knowledge and vision arose in me: 'My release is unshakable. This is the last birth. There is now no further becoming.'

That is what the Blessed One said. Gratified, the group of five monks delighted at his words. And while this explanation was being given, there arose to Ven. Koṇḍañña the dustless, stainless Dhamma eye, "Whatever is subject to origination is all subject to cessation."
Pavattite ca Bhagavatā dhamma-cakke, Bhummā deva saddamanussāvesuṃ, "Etam-Bhagavatā Bārāṇasiyaṃ isipatane migadāye anuttaraṃ dhamma-cakkaṃ pavattitaṃ, Appaṭivattiyaṃ samāṇena vā brāhmaṇena vā devena vā mārena vā brahmunā vā keṇaci vā lokasminti." [Pause]

Now when the Blessed One had set the Wheel of Dhamma in motion, the earth deities cried out, "At Varanasi, in the Game Refuge at Isipatana, the Blessed One has set in motion the unexcelled Wheel of Dhamma that cannot be stopped by priest or contemplative, deity, Māra, Brahma, or anyone at all in the cosmos."

On hearing the earth deities' cry, the deities of the Heaven of the Four Kings took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the deities of the Heaven of the Four Kings, the deities of the Heaven of the Thirty-three took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the deities of the Heaven of the Thirty-three, the Yama deities took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the Yama deities, the Tusita deities took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the Tusita deities, the Nimmanarati deities took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the Nimmanarati deities, the Paranimmitta-vasavatti deities took up the cry. On hearing the cry of the Paranimmitta-vasavatti deities, the deities of Brahma's retinue took up the cry, "At Varanasi, in the Game Refuge at Isipatana, the Blessed One has set in motion the unexcelled Wheel of Dhamma that cannot be stopped by priest or contemplative, deity, Māra, Brahma, or anyone at all in the cosmos."
Itiha tena khaṇena tena muhuttena, Yāva brahma-lokā saddo abbhuggacchi. Ayañca dasa-sahassī loka-dhātu, Saṅkampi sampakampi sampavedhi, Appamāṇo ca olāro obhāso loke pāturahosi, Atikkammeva devānaṃ devānubhāvaṃ.

So in that moment, that instant, the cry shot right up to the Brahma world, and this ten-thousandfold cosmos shivered and quivered and quaked, while a great, measureless radiance appeared in the cosmos, surpassing the effulgence of the deities.

Then the Blessed One exclaimed, "So you really know, Kondañña? So you really know?" And that is how Ven. Kondañña acquired the name Añña-Kondañña – Kondañña who knows.

The Discourse on the Not-self Characteristic

[Evam-me sutaṁ,] Ekaṁ samayaṁ Bhagavā, Bārāṇasiyaṁ viharati isipatane migadāye. Tatra kho Bhagavā pañca-vaggiye bhikkhū āmantesi.

I have heard that on one occasion the Blessed One was staying at Varanasi in the Game Refuge at Isipatana. There he addressed the group of five monks:

"Rūpaṁ bhikkhave anattā. Rūpaṅca hidam bhikkhave attā abhavissa, Nayidaṁ rūpaṁ ābādhāya saṃvatteyya, Labbhetha ca rūpe, Evaṁ me rūpaṁ hotu evaṁ me rūpaṁ mā ahosīti.

"The body, monks, is not self. If the body were the self, this body would not lend itself to disease. It would be possible (to say) with regard to the body, 'Let my body be thus. Let my body not be thus.'

Yasmā ca kho bhikkhave rūpaṁ anattā, Tasmā rūpaṁ ābādhāya saṃvatattati, Na ca labbhati rūpe, Evaṁ me rūpaṁ hotu evaṁ me rūpaṁ mā ahosīti.

But precisely because the body is not self, the body lends itself to disease. And it is not possible (to say) with regard to the body, 'Let my body be thus. Let my body not be thus.'

Vedanā anattā. Vedanā ca hidam bhikkhave attā abhavissa, Nayidaṁ vedanā ābādhāya saṃvatteyya, Labbhetha ca vedanāya, Evaṁ me vedanā hotu evaṁ me vedanā mā ahosīti.

Feeling is not self. If feeling were the self, this feeling would not lend itself to disease. It would be possible (to say) with regard to feeling, 'Let my feeling be thus. Let my feeling not be thus.'

Yasmā ca kho bhikkhave vedanā anattā, Tasmā vedanā ābādhāya saṃvatattati, Na ca labbhati vedanāya, Evaṁ me vedanā hotu evaṁ me vedanā mā ahosīti.
But precisely because feeling is not self, feeling lends itself to disease. And it is not possible (to say) with regard to feeling, 'Let my feeling be thus. Let my feeling not be thus.'

Saññā anattā. Saññā ca hidaṃ bhikkhave attā abhavissa, Nayidaṃ saññā ābādhāya saṃvatteyya, Labbhetha ca saññāya, Evaṃ me saññā hotu evaṃ me saññā mā ahosīti.

Perception is not self. If perception were the self, this perception would not lend itself to disease. It would be possible (to say) with regard to perception, 'Let my perception be thus. Let my perception not be thus.'

Yasmā ca kho bhikkhave saññā anattā, Tasmā saññā ābādhāya saṃvatattati, Na ca labbhati saññāya, Evaṃ me saññā hotu evaṃ me saññā mā ahosīti.

But precisely because perception is not self, perception lends itself to disease. And it is not possible (to say) with regard to perception, 'Let my perception be thus. Let my perception not be thus.'

Saṅkhārā anattā. Saṅkhārā ca hidaṃ bhikkhave attā abhavissāṃsu, Nayidaṃ saṅkhārā ābādhāya saṃvatteyyum, Labbhetha ca saṅkhāresu, Evaṃ me saṅkhārā hontu evaṃ me saṅkhārā mā ahesunti.

Mental processes are not self. If mental processes were the self, these mental processes would not lend themselves to disease. It would be possible (to say) with regard to mental processes, 'Let my mental processes be thus. Let my mental processes not be thus.'

Yasmā ca kho bhikkhave saṅkhārā anattā, Tasmā saṅkhārā ābādhāya saṃvatattanti, Na ca labbhati saṅkhāresu, Evaṃ me saṅkhārā hontu evaṃ me saṅkhārā mā ahesunti.

But precisely because mental processes are not self, mental processes lend themselves to disease. And it is not possible (to say) with regard to mental processes, 'Let my mental processes be thus. Let my mental processes not be thus.'
Viññaṇaṃ anattā. Viññaṇaṇca hidaṃ bhikkhave attā abhavissa, Nayidaṃ viññaṇaṃ ābādhāya saṃvatteyya, Labbhettha ca viññaṇe, Evaṃ me viññaṇaṃ hotu evaṃ me viññaṇaṃ mā ahosīti.

Consciousness is not self. If consciousness were the self, this consciousness would not lend itself to disease. It would be possible (to say) with regard to consciousness, 'Let my consciousness be thus. Let my consciousness not be thus.'

Yasmā ca kho bhikkhave viññaṇaṃ anattā, Tasmā viññaṇaṃ ābādhāya saṃvatṭati, Na ca labbhati viññaṇe, Evaṃ me viññaṇaṃ hotu evaṃ me viññaṇaṃ mā ahosīti. [Pause]

But precisely because consciousness is not self, consciousness lends itself to disease. And it is not possible (to say) with regard to consciousness, 'Let my consciousness be thus. Let my consciousness not be thus.'

Seeing thus, the well-instructed disciple of the noble ones grows disenchanted with the body, disenchanted with feeling, disenchanted with perception, disenchanted with mental processes, and disenchanted with consciousness.

Nibbindam virajjati, Virāgā vimuccati,

Disenchanted, he becomes dispassionate. Through dispassion, he is released.

With release, there is the knowledge, 'Released.' He discerns that, 'Birth is ended, the holy life fulfilled, the task done. There is nothing further for the sake of this world.'

Ida-mavoca Bhagavā, Attamanā pañca-vaggiyā bhikkhū Bhagavato bhāsitaṃ abhinandaṃ.

That is what the Blessed One said. Gratified, the group of five monks delighted at his words.

Imasmiṃca pana veyyā-karanaṃ bhānāmāne, Pañca-vaggiyānaṃ bhikkhūnaṃ anupādāya, Åsavehi cintāni vimuccīmsūti.

And while this explanation was being given, the hearts of the group of five monks, through lack of clinging, were released from the mental effluents.

Five Subjects for Frequent Recollection

Jarā-dhammomhi jaraṁ anatīto.

I am subject to aging. Aging is unavoidable.

Byādhi-dhammomhi byādhīṁ anatīto.

I am subject to illness. Illness is unavoidable.

Maraṇa-dhammomhi maraṇaṁ anatīto.

I am subject to death. Death is unavoidable.

Sabbehi me piyehi manāpehi nānā-bhāvo vinā-bhāvo.

I will grow different, separate from all that is dear and appealing to me.

Kammassakomhi kamma-dāyado kamma-yoni kamma-bandhu kamma-paṭisaraṇo.

I am the owner of my actions, heir to my actions, born of my actions, related through my actions, and live dependent on my actions.

Yaṁ khammam karissāmi kalyāṇaṁ vā pāpakaṁ vā tassa dāyado bhavissāmīti.

Whatever I do, for good or for evil, to that will I fall heir.

Evaṁ amhehi abhiñhaṁ paccavekkhitabbaṁ.

We should often reflect on this.

Taṇhaṅkarādayo Buddhā  Aṭṭha-vīsatī nāyakā
Sabbe patiṭhitā mayhaṃ  Matthake te munissarā

These Buddhas – 28 leaders, sovereign sages beginning with Taṇhaṅkara – are all established on the crown of my head.

Sīse patiṭhitō mayhaṃ  Buddhō dhammo dvilocane
Saṅgho patiṭhitō mayhaṃ  Ure sabba-guṇākaro

The Buddha is established in my head, the Dhamma in my two eyes, the Saṅgha – the mine of all virtues – is established in my chest.

Hadaye me Anuruddho  Sāriputto ca dakkhiṇe
Koṇḍañno piṭṭhi-bhāgasmiṃ  Moggallāno ca vāmake

Anuruddha72 is in my heart, and Sāriputta73 on my right. Koṇḍañña74 is behind me, and Moggallāna75 on my left.

72 Anuruddha was cousin to Siddhartha, (Gautama Buddha). He acquired "divine vision" (Pāli: dibba-cakkhu) and was ranked foremost among those who had the ability. At the First Buddhist Council, he played a notable role and was entrusted with the custody of the Anguttara Nikaya.

73 Sāriputta was one of two principal disciples of the Buddha along with Moggallāna. He became an Arahant renowned for his wisdom and is depicted in the Theravada tradition as one of the most important disciples of the Buddha. Sāriputra often preached with the Buddha's approval and was awarded the title of 'General of the Dharma' (Pāli: Dhammasenāpati) for his propagation of the teachings and is regarded as the founder of the Abhidharma tradition.

74 Koṇḍañña was the first Buddhist bhikkhu in the Saṅgha of Gautama Buddha and the first to become an arahant. Early in life, he became a young Brahmin and was the only scholar who unequivocally predicted upon the birth of Prince Siddhartha that the prince would become an enlightened Buddha, and vowed to become his disciple.

75 Moggallāna was one of two principal disciples of the Buddha along with Sāriputta. He was most accomplished of all the Buddha's disciples in the various supernatural powers.

76 Some texts use ‘Rāhulo’

78 Rāhula: The son of Siddhattha Gotama, later known as the Buddha, and his wife Princess Yasodharā. He was respected as the foremost in inconspicuous practice. He entered the priesthood at the age of fifteen under the guidance of Sāriputta, and devoted himself to the inconspicuous observance of the precepts.
79 Maha-Kassapa: One of the Buddha’s most eminent disciples. Maha-Kassapa is said to have become an Arahant after being with the Buddha for only eight days. He devoted himself to the practice of ascetic practices, and was regarded as chief of the Order. After the demise of the Buddha, Kasyapa presided over the First Buddhist Council.
80 Mahānāma: One of the Pañcavaggiyā, the five ascetics. He became a sotāpanna on the third day after the preaching of the Dhammacakkappavattana Sutta. He became an arahant on the day of the preaching of the Anuttarakkhandha Sutta, together with the other Pañcavaggiyā.
81 Some texts use ‘Kesante’ or ‘Kesente’
82 Sobhita Thera: He belonged to a brahmin family of Sāvatthi and, after hearing the Buddha preach, entered the Order, attaining arahantship. Later the Buddha declared him foremost among those who could remember past births (Pubbenīvāsānussaranānam).
83 Kumārakassapa: His mother became a nun, while not knowing that she was with child. When the boy was born the king reared him, and the boy was ordained at the age of seven. He was foremost among those who had the gift of varied and versatile discourse (Cittakathikānam). Once when Kumāra Kassapa was meditating in Andhavana, an anāgāmi Brahmad, who had been his companion in the time of Kassapa Buddha, appeared before him, and asked him fifteen questions which only the Buddha could answer. This led to the preaching of the Vammika Sutta (M.i.143ff), and after dwelling on its teachings Kassapa became an arahant.
84 Puṇṇa was one of the ten leading disciples of the Buddha. When asked by the Buddha what he would think if people were to assault or kill him, each time Puṇṇa explained how he would find himself fortunate. As a result, the Buddha commended Puṇṇa on his self-control and peacefulness. Puṇṇa went on to establish a thousand lay followers in the Buddha’s teaching.
From the time of his birth, Sāriputta went on to establish a thousand lay followers in the Buddha’s teaching. Nanda: Son of Suddhodana and Mahāpajāpati, and therefore half brother of the Buddha. The Anguttara Nikaya (A.iv.166f) contains a discourse in which the Buddha discusses Nanda’s claim to his birth and ordained him with his mother – Suppavāsā’s permission. Sivali became a sotāpanna in the Tonsure hall when his first lock of hair was cut, and a sakadāgāmi with the second. Some say that after his ordination he left home on the same day and lived in a secluded hut, meditating on the delays in his birth, and thus, winning insight, attained arahantship. Sivali was declared by the Buddha (A.i.24) pre-eminent among recipients of gifts.

Angulimāla was formerly named ‘Ahimsaka’ (harmless), as an attempt to deter the dark fate predicted at his birth. He was sent to Taxila to study under a well-known Brahmin and was told by his teacher that if Ahimsaka killed one thousand people, he could complete his religious practice. To keep count of the number of victims that he had taken, he threaded a string with the victims’ fingers and wore them around his neck as a garland. Thus he came to be known as Angulimāla (garland of fingers). He had already killed nine hundred ninety-nine people and was about to kill his mother as the thousandth, when the Buddha suddenly appeared to stop Angulimāla and convinced him to change his ways, vow to cease his life as a brigand and join the Buddhist order.

Before joining the order, he worked as a barber. He asked the Buddha if a person of “low birth” such as he could join the order. Buddha ordained him before the princes and asked the princes to pay homage to Upāli, who by then had become an Arhant with Buddha’s sermons while Buddha was getting a hair cut. He became the chief disciple in knowing the rules of the order and the foremost disciple in keeping precepts.

Upāli: Before joining the order, he worked as a barber. He asked the Buddha if a person of “low birth” such as he could join the order. Buddha ordained him before the princes and asked the princes to pay homage to Upāli, who by then had become an Arhant with Buddha’s sermons while Buddha was getting a hair cut. He became the chief disciple in knowing the rules of the order and the foremost disciple in keeping precepts.

Nanda: Son of Suddhodana and Mahāpajāpati, and therefore half brother of the Buddha. The Anguttara Nikaya (A.iv.166f) contains a discourse in which the Buddha discusses Nanda’s claim to have achieved self control in all things.

Sivali: From the time of his birth, Sivali could do anything. Sāriputta talked with him on the day of his birth and ordained him with his mother – Suppavāsā’s permission. Sivali became a sotāpanna in the Tonsure hall when his first lock of hair was cut, and a sakadāgāmi with the second. Some say that after his ordination he left home on the same day and lived in a secluded hut, meditating on the delays in his birth, and thus, winning insight, attained arahantship. Sivali was declared by the Buddha (A.i.24) pre-eminent among recipients of gifts.

Verses of Benediction on Timely Offering

Kāle dadanti sapaññā  Vadaññū vīta-maccharā
Kālena dinnaṃ ariyesu  Uju-bhūtesu tādisu
Vippasanna-manā tassa  Vipulā hoti dakkhiṇā.

Those with discernment, responsive, free from stinginess, give in the proper season. Having given in the proper season with hearts inspired by the Noble Ones – straightened, such – Their offering bears an abundance.

Ye tattha anumodanti  Veyyāvaccam kareṇti vā
Na tena dakkhiṇā onā  Tepi puññassa bhāgino.

Those who rejoice in that gift, or give assistance, they too have a share of the merit, and the offering is not depleted by that.

Tasmā dade appaṭivāna-citto  Yattha dinnaṃ mahapphalaṃ
Puññāni para-lokasmiṃ  Patiṭṭhā honti pāṇinanti.

Therefore, with an unhesitant mind, one should give where the gift bears great fruit. Merit is what establishes living beings in the next life.
The Efficacy of Paritta

In the book of commentaries (Attakathā), the efficacy of Paritta that protect the reciters has shown in several episodes such as:

Once the Bodhisatta was born as a golden peacock, he regularly chanted the “Mora Paritta”, which referred to the Buddha's quality (virtue). The power of the Paritta kept him safe from the hunter's traps.

During the time of the Buddha, there were 500 monks practicing meditation in the forest and the deities disturbed them. As a result of that, they went back to meet the Buddha at Savatthi to asked for his advice. There, the Buddha taught them “Mettā Sutta”, which was the discourse of loving-kindness. Since those monks had constantly practiced the loving-kindness, the deities protected them and did not disturb them as before.

The power of paritta also protects the listeners. As shown in the book of commentaries that in the advent of the Buddha, Vesali town was facing three great disasters which were starvation, devils and disease. Lord Buddha was invited to preach people in that town. The Exalted One asked Ānanda to chant the “Ratana Paritta”, which referred to the virtue of the Triple Gem. Since then the disasters disappeared.

Another example during the advent of the Buddha, there was a ‘Yaksa’ (giant demon) planning to eat a child within 7 days. To help the child, Lord Buddha suggested the monks chant Paritta for 7 days and 7 nights, and the Buddha himself also chanted on the eighth night. The power of Paritta saved the child. After that, his parents named him ‘Āyuvaṭṭhanakūmār’ (a child who live long) and the child lived for 120 years.
Good results of Paritta

The legends have compiled the good results of Paritta as follows:

1. Mettā Sutta – sleeping happily, waking up happily, no nightmares, being loved by humans, being loved by non-humans, being protected by celestial beings, fire poisons or weapons will not harm the body, the face glows, one will not die without mindfulness, one will be reborn in the Brahman world if spiritual attainment is not achieved

2. Khandha Paritta – for protection against creatures with poisonous fangs and other creatures

3. Mora Paritta – for protection against harms (by those who have bad intention)

4. Āṭānātiya Paritta – protection against non-humans, one will have good health and happiness

5. Bojjhaṅga Paritta – for good health, quick recovery from illnesses, long-life and help one get through obstacles

6. Jaya Paritta – for victory and good fortune

7. Ratana Paritta – for blessing, prosperities and getting through obstacles

8. Vaṭṭaka Paritta – for protection against fire

9. Maṅgala Paritta – for good fortune and protection against dangers

10. Dhajagga Paritta – for protection against difficulties, dangers and falling from heights

11. Aṅgulimāla Paritta – for easy childbirth and overcoming difficulties

12. Abhaya Paritta – for protection against unlucky signs, inauspiciousness and bad dreams
Number of Paritta

The legend has classified Paritta to two groups:

1. Culrājaparitta (7 Chronicles):
   - 1. Maṅgala Paritta
   - 2. Ratana Paritta
   - 3. Mettā Sutta
   - 4. Khandha Paritta
   - 5. Mora Paritta
   - 6. Dhajagga Paritta
   - 7. Āṭānāṭiya Paritta

2. Māhārājaparitta (12 Chronicles):
   - 1. Maṅgala Paritta
   - 2. Ratana Paritta
   - 3. Mettā Sutta
   - 4. Khandha Paritta
   - 5. Mora Paritta
   - 6. Vaṭṭaka Paritta
   - 7. Dhajagga Paritta
   - 8. Āṭānāṭiya Paritta
   - 9. Aṅgulimāla Paritta
   - 10. Bojjhaṅga Paritta
   - 11. Abhaya Paritta
   - 12. Jaya Paritta

History of Paritta

Maṅgala Paritta

Maṅgala Paritta is the discourse on 38 good fortunes.

The legend says, before the Buddha preached this Paritta, it had been debated for longtime about what was good fortune and what was not. Some said pleasant sight was a good fortune. Some said pleasant sound was a good fortune. Some other said pleasant smell, pleasant taste, pleasant touch were good fortunes. Each side was positive in their belief, but was not able to convince the others with good reasons. This debate spread to the celestial realms and the Brahma world and divided them to three different beliefs like in the human world. The debate continued for the next twelve years, until a group of deities of the Tāvatiṃsā (the Heaven of the Thirty-three) raised this conflict to the Indra. Then, the Indra assigned a deity to invite the Lord Buddha to preach what was the good fortune to the deities and himself.
The Lord Buddha accepted the invitation and the teaching was known as the ‘Discourse on good fortune’.

Ratana Paritta

Ratana Paritta is a verse of protection that praises the virtue of the Triple Gem to protect and bring a peaceful life.

The legend says, once Vesali town was facing a great starvation due to a drought. A great number of people were starving to death and their corpses were thrown out of the town. The smell of the corpses has brought devils to town and harmed more people. Moreover, the town was suffered from cholera. Therefore, the town was facing three great disasters which were starvation, devils and disease.

The residents criticized that the Vasali had no such disasters for the past 7 resigns, and began to question morality of the king. Thus, the king called for an assembly to examine his decency; however, nobody could identify his offenses. Therefore, the people decided to invite the Lord Buddha to liberate them from suffering.

The presence of Buddha with Indra and his numerous followers caused the devils to flee from the town. The Buddha taught the Ratana Paritta to Ānanda and assigned him to chant this paritta around the town for three periods. All of the remaining devils could not stand the virtue power of the paritta and left Vesali. Once the town had become peaceful, people gathered round the town center and invited the Lord to preach this Paritta to the Buddhist assembly.

Mettā Sutta

Mettā Sutta is a discourse of loving-kindness.

In one era, when the Lord Buddha resided in Savatthi at Jetavava Temple, 500 monks learned meditation from the Lord Buddha. Then they continued to travel in search of a place to practice Dhamma. Arriving at a woodland path, the monks consulted whether the place was appropriate for the development of monastic observances. They consented to stay during the Buddhist lent. The villagers exhibited their faith by putting together the monk’s dwelling for each and every monk, including for each attendant of each monk, and providing the four requisites adequately.

The monks practiced meditation in their dwellings when it rained. They would practice by the trunk of the tree when it did not rain. The deities who resided in the trees could not live peacefully as the religious precept practitioners were living in their places. The deities had to stay on the ground with their sons and daughters. They thought the monks would temporarily stay in the trees so they waited. However, they were troubled when they realised that the monks would settle for the three months of Buddhist lent. They thought of expelling the monks during this time. Therefore, they attempted to frighten the monks in many ways such as manifesting their atrocious figures, groaning, dispensing a foul smell.

The monks, daunted by those fearful emotions, were not able to practice Dhamma expediently, therefore, they came to the decision that they should not be at this place and that they should practice elsewhere. They proceeded without informing the villagers. When they arrived at Jetavana Temple, they appeared before the Lord Buddha and informed him about what happened. The Lord Buddha envisioned that the place was more appropriate for the monks than any other place. He advised the monks to return and guided them with Mettā Paritta to develop Mettā for the deities.

When the monks had learned the Mettā Paritta from the Lord Buddha, they returned to the same place. Before they entered the forest, they had performed Mettā by conversing this Paritta. The power of Mettā causes gentility and harmony in the deities’ mind and spirit. The deities were not as manipulative as they were before; on the contrary, they ministered and protected the monks. The monks persisted in practising Mettā development and insight development by employing Mettā as the path of insight. Every monk attained Arhantship within that Buddhist lent period.
Khandha Paritta

Khandha Paritta is a verse of protection that mentions the practice of Mettā for the four families of serpent kings and all living creatures.

The legend says that during the time that Lord Buddha resided in Savatthi at Jetavana Temple, a monk was bitten by a snake. The other monks informed the Lord Buddha of the story. He replied that the monk got bitten by a snake because he did not extend loving-kindness to all the four families of serpent kings. The ones who did would not be bitten. Lord Buddha also advised to extend Mettā for the four families of serpent kings; Virupakkhas, Erapathas, Chabya descendants, and Gotamakas.

In the Jātaka commentary, the history is as follows. When Lord Buddha was born as an ascetic in the Himmavanta (a legendary forest), he was dwelling with a number of ascetics. At that time an ascetic was bitten to death by a snake, the Bodhisatta then taught the Khandha Paritta to ascetics as a protection from venomous snakes. Later, during the advent of Buddha, he taught this Paritta to monk as a protection from venomous snakes.

Mora Paritta

Mora Paritta is a peacock’s verse of protection that refers to and invites the virtues of Lord Buddha for protection and prosperity.

The legend goes back when Bodhisatta was born as a gold peacock and resided on Daṇḍokhiraṇpanbot Mountain in Himmavanta Forest. Bodhisatta would gaze at the rising sun and enchant the magic mantra reciting the first of the two incantations, such as "Udetayaṅcakkhumā eka-rājā". Bodhisatta then set off in search of food supplies, reciting the second incantation, such as "Apetayaṅcakkhumā eka-rājā". The peacock was safe from any sort of danger with this mantra.

One day a bushman from a village nearby Varanasi met the gold peacock unexpectedly. He told his son about the gold peacock. At that time, Khemādevi, the Queen of King Varanasi, dreamt that she caught sight of a gold peacock preaching. She informed the King of her wish to listen to his preaches. The Queen demanded the bushman to spy out the gold peacock. The bushman, once knew of such a hearsay from his father, came to report that the gold peacock did exist at Daṇḍokhiraṇpanbot.
The Queen then assigned the bushman to capture the gold peacock as an offering.

The bushman travelled to Himmavanta and placed snares in all possible locations the gold peacock would go for food supplies. Seven years passed by, the bushman was still searching until he eventually passed away in the forest. This was because either the gold peacock was able to escape or the snares did not activate. Khemādevī subsequently died of grievance because her wish failed to be fulfilled. King of Varanasi was so furious over his Queen’s death that he ordered the inscription on a gold pallet; saying that the one who consumes the flesh of the gold peacock at Danḍokhiraṇpanbot will not grow old, he or she will not die. After a while, the King passed away. The other kings, who succeeded the throne, discovering the statement encrypted on the gold pallet, commanded a bushman to capture the legendary gold peacock; no-one ever succeeded. Time had passed, over the reign of six consecutive kings.

The reign of the seventh king arrived. The King also ordered the bushman to catch the gold peacock. This cunning bushman, observing for several days, learned that the peacock was not trapped because of his casting this sacred mantra before going out to search for food. Therefore, he was untouchable. The bushman thought to himself that he had to seize the gold peacock right before he chanted the mantra. He then caught a female peacock and tamed her. He released the female peacock at the foothills and placed the traps nearby. He then gave a signal for the female peacock to spread her tail feathers and cry out. Bodhisatta, enchanted by the female peacock, forgetting to cast the mantra, unconsciously flew to the female peacock and was snared. The bushman brought the Bodhisatta to King Varanasi.

The gold peacock Bodhisatta, appearing before King of Varanasi, inquired the King of for what purpose the King had him captured. The King replied that it was because of the statement written on the golden pallet saying that the one who consumes the flesh of the gold peacock will not age, nor die. Bodhisatta responded that the one who eats him would not die, but he would. The King answered that that was correct. Bodhisatta continued and asked that if he died, how could the one who ate him not? The King said it was because he has gold feathers. Bodhisatta countered that he had his gold feathers because in his last life, he was born as an emperor in this Varanasi. He habitually maintained the five basic precepts of moral practice and persuaded his people to follow the same practice. Bodhisatta told the story about him burying his cart at the Puskarini (the holy pond). King Varanasi ordered the sluice out of the pond and he retrieved the cart. The king then had faith in Bodhisatta’s words. Bodhisatta later offered the King a sermon about maintaining the prudence and then returned to the Himavanta.

Vaṭṭaka Paritta

Vaṭṭaka Paritta is the verse of protection against fire. It comes from the truthful words of Lord Buddha when he was born a quail. This Paritta cites the words in order to protect ones from fire.

The history appears in two locations; Jātaka and Cariyāpiṭaka.

In Jātaka, there only exists one mantra, the third mantra.

In Cariyāpiṭaka, there exist 11 mantras, four of which are the favorite ones for today’s prayers. The ancient gurus selected only the last four mantras, skipping the preceding seven because the last four mantras illustrate the truthful words of Bodhisatta while the first seven mantras provide details on the history.

Jariya-pidok signifies that Lord Buddha spoke this Paritta to Sāriputta in order to display his virtue that he once had accumulated in the past worlds. The part in the book of commentaries refers to the history about one period when the Lord Buddha accidentally experienced a forest fire while making a pilgrimage with fellow monks. When the fire extended to besiege the sixteen Karīsa (1 Karīsa = 123 feet), area, in which 704 Tanan (1 Tanan = 1 coconut shell) of grain can be sowed into, the fire was suddenly, miraculously went out without the use of water or any other means. Lord Buddha explained that the forest fire was not put out by the power of Lord Buddha at present, but by the power of the truthful words that Lord Buddha had performed in the era he was born a quail. Since that time, this location would be a place where there would be no fire from the beginning to the end of the world. He then presented this Paritta to those monks.
Dhajagga Paritta

Dhajagga Paritta is the verse of protection of the flag crest. It describes the story of a the deva of the Tāvatiṃśā (realm of the Thirty-three Gods) who looked up the Indra’s flag crest during a battle between devas and demons, and it advises monks to bring to mind the gratitude of Lord Buddha, Buddha’s teaching and Buddhist monks whenever they are frightened in the forest, by the roots of the tree or in the dwelling.

The legend says that this Paritta is capable of protecting one who falls from a high place and tells the story about what happened to a monk in Sri Lanka. It happened when monks were helping each other applying the cement for the pagoda, Dīghavāpi, a monk, fell from the pagoda. The monks on ground immediately told the falling monk to bring to mind the Dhajagga Paritta. The falling monk recalled and asked Dhajagga Paritta to guard him. At the same time, two bricks in the pagoda moved out to support his feet. When the other monks had got hold of him with the ladder, the two bricks returned to where they were in the pagoda.

Āṭānāṭiya Paritta

Āṭānāṭiya Paritta is the Parita of the king Kuvar, ruler of Āṭānā. King Kuvar gave this Paritta to Lord Buddha. This Paritta refers to the names of seven Lord Buddhas and their gratitude, including the power of Lord Buddhas and of devas for protection and prosperity.

The history had it that the Four Guardian Deities, Vadhataraṇṭha, Virūḷhok, Virūpak, and Kuvar appeared before Lord Buddha during midnight while he was dwelling at Griddhakuta (hill of the vultures), Rājagaha. King Kuvar informed Lord Buddha that some devils had faith in him, but some did not. The majority had no faith because they could not refrain from bad karma, nor abstain from killing as the Lord Buddha had instructed. They were discontented with the teaching which contradicted their behaviour. The monks, practicing the dharma in the solitary forest, feared that they might be disturbed by devils, asked Lord Buddha for palladium, which is Āṭānāṭiya Paritta. They then granted Āṭānāṭiya Paritta to the Buddhist for reciting for protection and for inhuman beings to have faith in Buddhism. Subsequently, king Kuvar recited the mantra such as “Vipassissa namatthu” when the Four Guardian Deities arrived back. Lord Buddha then brought the mantra to the Buddhist assembly.

Aṅgulimāla Paritta

Aṅgulimāla Paritta is a verse of protection for easy childbirth and overcoming difficulties.

The history tell the story about the time when Aṅgulimāla met a lady who had difficulty in delivering a baby while Aṅgulimāla was receiving food offerings. Aṅgulimāla returned to appear before Lord Buddha and informed Lord Buddha about the story. Lord Buddha taught Aṅgulimāla this Paritta. Aṅgulimāla went back to converse this Paritta to the lady. When the lady heard the Paritta, the delivery process became effortless. Both mother and baby were blessed.

In addition, the chair in which Aṅgulimāla was seated while chanting this Paritta turned into a holy chair. Any ladies with difficulty in delivering a baby, who was unable to be seated on this chair, can use water which has been poured on this holy chair to pour on their heads, easing the delivery process just as the water flowing out of the monk’s cylinder. Even the troublesome birth giving process by an animal was made easy once seated on this chair. Other than delivering babies, this chair was capable of curing other diseases.

Bojjhaṅga Paritta

Bojjhaṅga Paritta is the verse of protection that refers to the Bojjhaṅga, the constituents of enlightenment and reference to the truthful words which protect and bless with all prosperity. Recited for good health, quick recovery, long life, and getting through obstacles.

In one reign, Lord Buddha was dwelling at Veluvana Vihara, Rajāgaha, when Maha Kassapa was suffering from a severe illness at Pipphali Cava. Lord Buddha paid a visit and performed the 7 Bojjhaṅga. Maha Kassapa was delighted when he heard the paritta and recalled that the Bojjhaṅga once appeared before him while he was having a thorough understanding of the dharmic truth seven days after he entered monkhood. Lord Buddha’s lesson was about genuine freedom from suffering. The Thera was joyfully overwhelmed once he realized that Dharma, remembering that feelings turned his blood and his other natural forms brighter and chased away his diseases just as drops of water rolling off a lotus leaf.

In addition, Lord Buddha spoke of the Bojjhaṅga at Griddhkuta Mountain to the Maha Moggallāna Thera, who was suffering from sickness. Once the Thera heard this Bojjhaṅga, he instantly recovered from the sickness.

Another story was told about when the Buddha restored his health after going through a critical illness when he was residing at Veluvana Vihara. He ordered Junta Thera to chant the 7 Bojjhaṅga.

Abhaya Paritta

Abhaya Paritta is the safety verse of protection that the ancient gurus invented by requesting the Triple Gem to protect and bless them with prosperity. This paritta appears in Thai’s seven and twelve Chronicles and prevails to the Union of Myanmar and the Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka.

Jaya Paritta

Jaya Paritta is the paritta that mentions the victory of Lord Buddha and refers the truthful words to protect and bless with prosperity. Mantras 1-3, reveal the victory of Lord Buddha and were mantras that the ancient gurus invented at a later date. Mantra 4-6, the Buddha’s teachings, were brought from Aṅguttaranikāya Pubbañhasutra.

The Buddhist’s Discipline

Just as Buddhist monks have the monks’ discipline to observe to be virtuous, so Buddhists in general have the lay people’s discipline to keep as a code of standards.

Section One
Laying a Firm Foundation for Life

Buddhists are supposed to lead good lives and contribute to the growth and stability of society in accordance with the lay people’s discipline (gihivinaya) as follows.

Law 1: Refraining from 14 kinds of evils.

A. Refraining from the four kinds of kammakilesa (evil deeds that defile one’s life), namely:

1. One does not do bodily harm or take life (i.e. abstaining from pāṇātipāta).
2. One does not steal or violate property rights (i.e. abstaining from adinnādāna).
3. One does not commit sexual misconduct (i.e. abstaining from kāmesumicchāra).
4. One does not speak falsely, lie or deceive (i.e. abstaining from mūsavāda).

B. Refraining from the four kinds of agati (bias or deviant conduct), namely:

1. One is not biased on account of like (i.e. being without chandāgati).
2. One is not biased on account of hate (i.e. being without dosāgati).
3. One is not biased on account of fear (i.e. being without bhayāgati).
4. One is not biased on account of folly (i.e. being without mohāgati).

C. Refraining from the six kinds of apāyamukha (channels to the ruin of property and life), namely:

1. One is not addicted to drink or drugs.
2. One dose not revel, oblivious to time.
3. One is not bent only on entertainment.
4. One dose not indulge in gambling.
5. One dose not consort with evil friends.
6. One dose not constantly laze around.

Law 2 : Preparing resources for life on two fronts.

A. Choosing the people with whom one is to associate. One should associate with people who will guide one's life along a path that is prosperous and constructive, by avoiding false friends and associating only with true friends as follows:

1. Recognizing the four kinds of false friends or enemies in the guise of friends (mittapaṭIRR̥paka):

   1) The out-and-out robber, who only takes from his friend, has four features:
      (1) He thinks only of taking.
      (2) He gives just a little only to gain a lot.
      (3) Only when he himself is in danger does he help his friend out.
      (4) He associates with his friend only for his own sake.

   2) The smooth talker has four features:
      (1) He talks only of what is done and gone.
      (2) He talks only of what has not yet come.
      (3) He offers help that is of no use.
      (4) When his friend has some business in hand, he always makes excuses.

   3) The flatterer has four features:
      (1) He consents to [his friend's] doing wrong.
      (2) He consents to his doing right.
      (3) He praises him to his face.
      (4) He disparages him behind his back.

   4) The leader to ruin has four features:
      (1) He is a companion in drinking.
      (2) He is a companion in nightlife.
      (3) He is a companion in frequenting shows and fairs.
      (4) He is a companion in gambling.

   B. Allocating the wealth one has acquired through right livelihood as follows:

   Stage 1: One should be diligent in earning and saving just as bees collect nectar and pollen.

   Stage 2: When one's wealth accrues like a termites' mound, expenditure should be planned thus:

   - One portion to be used for supporting oneself, supporting one's family, taking care of one's dependents and doing good works.
   - Two portions to be used for one's career, earning one's living.
   - One portion to be put aside as a guarantee for one's life and business in times of need.
2. Knowing of the four kinds of true friends or friends at heart (suhadamitta):

1) The helping friend has four features:
   (1) When his friend is off guard, he guards him.
   (2) When his friend is off guard, he guards his property.
   (3) In times of danger, he can be a refuge.
   (4) When some business needs to be done, he puts up more money than requested.

2) The friend through thick and thin has four features:
   (1) He confides in his friend.
   (2) He keeps his friend’s secrets.
   (3) He does not desert his friend in times of danger.
   (4) He will give even his life for his friend’s sake.

3) The good counselor has four features:
   (1) He restrains his friend from doing evil or harm.
   (2) He encourages him in goodness.
   (3) He makes known to his friend what he has not heard before.
   (4) He points out the way to happiness, to heaven.

4) The loving friend has four features:
   (1) When his friend is unhappy, he commiserates.
   (2) When his friend is happy, he is happy for him.
   (3) When others criticize his friend, he comes to his defense.
   (4) When others praise his friend, he joins in their praise.

B. Allocating the wealth one has acquired through right livelihood as follows:

Stage 1: One should be diligent in earning and saving just as bees collect nectar and pollen.

Stage 2: When one’s wealth accrues like a termites’ mound, expenditure should be planned thus:

- One portion to be used for supporting oneself, supporting one’s family, taking care of one’s dependents and doing good works.
- Two portions to be used for one’s career, earning one’s living.
- One portion to be put aside as a guarantee for one’s life and business in times of need.
Law 3: Maintaining one’s relations towards the six directions.

A. Rendering all the directions secure and peaceful by performing the duties towards the people related to one in due accordance with their six respective positions:

1st direction: As a son or daughter, one should honor one’s parents, who are likened to the “forward direction,” as follows:

1. Having been raised by them, one looks after them in return.
2. One helps them in their business and work.
3. One continues the family line.
4. One conducts oneself as is proper for an heir.
5. After their passing away, one makes offerings, dedicating the merit to them.

Parents help their children by:

1. Cautioning and protecting them from evil.
2. Nurturing and training them in goodness.
3. Providing them with an education.
4. Seeing to it that they obtain suitable spouses.
5. Bequeathing the inheritance to them at the proper time.

2nd direction: As a student, one should show reverence to one’s teacher, who is likened to the “right direction,” as follows:

1. One rises to greet the teacher and shows respect to him.
2. One approaches the teacher to attend him, serve him, consult him, query him, receive advice from him, etc.
3. One hearkens well so as to cultivate wisdom.
4. One serves the teacher and runs errands for him.
5. One learns the subject respectfully and earnestly, giving the task of learning its due importance.

A teacher supports his students by:

1. Teaching and training them to be good.
2. Guiding them to thorough understanding.
3. Teaching the subject in full.
4. Encouraging the students and praising their merits and abilities.
5. Providing a protection for all directions; that is, teaching and training them so that they can actually use their learning to make a living and know how to conduct themselves well, having a guarantee for smoothly leading a good life and attaining happiness and prosperity.

3rd direction: As a husband, one should honor and support one’s wife, who is likened to the “rearward direction,” as follows:

1. One honors her in accordance with her status as wife.
2. One does not look down on her.
3. One does not commit adultery.
4. One gives her control of household concerns.
5. One gives her occasional gifts of ornaments and clothing.

A wife supports her husband by:

1. Keeping the household tidy.
2. Helping the relatives and friends of both sides.
3. Not committing adultery.
4. Safeguarding any wealth that has been acquired.
5. Being diligent in all her work.

4th direction: As a friend, one should conduct oneself towards one’s friends, who are likened to the “left direction,” as follows:

1. One shares with them.
2. One speaks kindly to them.
3. One helps them.
4. One is constant through their ups and downs.
5. One is faithful and sincere.

Friends reciprocate by:

1. Protecting their friend when he is off guard.
2. Protecting their friend’s property when he is off guard.
4. Not deserting their friend in times of hardship.
5. Respecting their friend’s family and relatives.

5th direction: As an employer, one should support one’s servants and employees, who are likened to the “lower direction,” as follows:

1. One assigns them work in accordance with their strength, sex, age and abilities.
2. One pays them wages commensurate with their work and adequate for their livelihood.
3. One grants them fringe benefits by, for example, providing medical care in times of sickness.
4. One shares with them a portion of any extra gain.
5. One gives them appropriate holidays and time to rest.

A servant or employee helps his employer by:
1. Starting work before him.
2. Stopping work after him.
3. Taking only what is given by his employer.
4. Doing his job well and seeking ways to improve on it.
5. Spreading a good reputation about is employer and his business.

6th direction: As a Buddhist, one should show reverence to the monks, who are likened to the “upper direction,” as follows:
1. One acts towards them with goodwill.
2. One speaks to them with goodwill.
3. One thinks to them with goodwill.
4. One receives them willingly.
5. One supports them with the four requisites [almsfood, robes, shelter and medicine].

Monks help lay people by:
1. Enjoining them from evil actions.
2. Enjoining them in goodness.
3. Assisting them with kind intentions.
4. Making know to them things not heard before.
5. Explaining and clarifying things they have already heard.
6. Pointing out the way to heaven, teaching them the way to happiness and prosperity.

B. Helping one another for social harmony, i.e. helping one another and contributing to creating social peace, stability and unity according to the four principles for helpful integration (saṅghavatthu), namely:
1. dāna: giving, sharing (helping through money and material goods).
2. piyavācā: amicable speech (helping through words).
3. atthacariyā: helpful action (helping through physical or mental effort).
4. samānattatā: participation (helping through participation in constructive action and problem solving; being equal by virtue of the Dhamma and sharing both weal and woe).

Section Two

Steering Life to Its Objectives

A. Three levels of objectives. One should conduct one’s life so as to attain the three levels of objectives (attha) as follows:

Level 1: diṭṭhadhammikatha*, i.e. the temporal objective or present benefit

- A) Enjoying good health, physical fitness, freedom from maladies and longevity.
- B) Having work and income, having honest livelihood, and being economically self-reliant.
- C) Having good status, and gaining the respect of society.
- D) Having a happy family, establishing a good reputation of one’s family.

All the four objectives above should be righteously achieved and utilized for the sake of oneself and others.

Level 2: samparāyikattha*, i.e. the spiritual objective or further benefit.

- A) Being endowed with warmth, deep appreciation and happiness; being not lonesome or unfirm; having an ideal to adhere to so as to be strong with faith.
- B) Being proud of a clean life, of having done only wholesome deeds with virtue.
- C) Being gratified in a worthwhile life, in having always done what is beneficial with sacrifice.
- D) Being courageous and confident to resolve problems as well as conduct one’s life and duties with wisdom.
- E) Being secure and confident in having a guarantee for the future life in consequence of having done only good deeds.

Level 3: paramattha*, i.e. the highest objective or greatest benefit:

- A) Having a secure, peaceful and stable mind, unshaken even when affected by the ways of the world or confronted with vicissitudes or changes.
B) Not being so distressed by clinging or attachment as to feel disappointed or sorrowful; having a mind that is relieved, clear, buoyant and free.

C) Being refreshed, cheerful, not sullen or depressed; being radiant and free from suffering; enjoying genuine bliss.

D) Being well aware of causes and conditions and acting accordingly; leading a life that is impeccable and bright; conducting oneself with wisdom.

One who is able to attain from the second level of benefit upwards is known as a wise man (paññita).

B. Three fronts of objectives. These three levels of objectives should be realized on all three fronts:

1st front: attattha, i.e. the objective for oneself or one’s own benefit; the three levels of benefits explained above, which one should realize for oneself or develop one’s life to attain.

2nd front: parattha, i.e. the objective for others or other people’s benefit; i.e. the three levels of benefits explained above, which one should help other people successively achieve by guiding and encouraging them to develop their lives.

3rd front: ubhayattha, i.e. the mutual objective or benefit to both parties; the collective benefit, happiness and virtue of the community or society, including environmental conditions and factors, which we should help create and conserve in order to help both ourselves and others advance to the three levels of objectives mentioned above.

Buddhists of the Leading Type

Those Buddhists who are referred to as upāsaka and upāsikā [Buddhist lay followers] are considered Buddhists of the leading type. They must be steadfast and firmly established in the [Buddhist] principles to serve as examples for Buddhists in general. Apart from observing the Buddhist’s discipline, they must possess the five qualities of Buddhist lay follower (upāsakadhamma) as follows:
1. They have faith; their belief being endowed with wisdom; they are not given to blind faith; they have confidence in the Triple Gem [the Buddha, the Dhamma and the Saṅgha], neither being shaken nor faltering; they adhere to the Dhamma as the principal and supreme cause.

2. They have morality; apart from maintaining themselves in the Five Precepts and righteous livelihood, they should undertake the Eight Observances on due occasions to develop themselves so that their lives and happiness depend less on material needs, thus reducing harm and increasing beneficence towards others.

3. They do not get carried away by superstition; they believe in deeds, aspiring to results from their own deeds through their own effort in a rational way; they are not excited by wildly rumored superstition, talismans or lucky charms; they do not aspire to results from praying for miracles.

4. They do not seek the gift-worthy outside of this teaching; they do not grasp at fields of merit, miracle workers or holy personalities that are outside the Buddhist principles.

5. They apply themselves to supporting and helping with the Buddhist cause; they attend to, initiate and support charity work in accordance with the teaching of the Perfectly Enlightened One.

Five Kind of Micchāvanījja  มิจฉาวณิชชา

Trading which is Wrong Dhamma

1. Trade in things which kill living beings.
2. Trading in human beings (slave trading).
3. Trading in animals which are to be slaughtered for food.
4. Trading in intoxicating liquors.
5. Trading in poisons.

These five kinds of trading are prohibited for Buddhist lay devotees.

Beginning Meditation Practice

We sit upright in the regular meditation posture, cross-legged as seen in some Buddha images, with the right leg resting upon the left. The right hand rests on the left, palms turned upwards, with the right index finger just touching the left thumb. The body is straight and the mind is fully alert. Take a deep breath and relax the body until you feel comfortable. Close your eyelids lightly, do not press them.

In basic samadhi practice, we use two aids: the repeated word or mantra (parikamma-bhāvanā) and the object of visualization (parikamma-nimitta). The repetition of the words "samma-sambuddhāṁ," which is Buddhanusati or remembrance of the Buddha’s virtues, from the anusati category of meditation devices. The object of visualization is a bright, clear luminous sphere called the alokakausāṇa or light object, from the kausāṇa meditation devices. Using these aids, we draw the mind inward to the centre of the body. Such concentration allows the mind components of vision, memory, thought and awareness to come together into oneness.

Begin by mentally imagining a bright, clear, luminous sphere located just outside your nostril aperture – right at the opening of the nose – for ladies on the left-side, and for gentlemen on the right side. This is the first base at which the mind pauses. Focus your full attention at the centre of the sphere so that the four components of the mind – which are seeing, remembering, thinking and recognizing – come together at one point together with the sphere. It is natural that whenever you see an object with your mind, these four mind components all function together with the object. When you focus your mind at the centre of the sphere, they all come together at that one point. This is the way we calm and concentrate our mind. The mind itself is invisible, but we can use objects visible to the mind to train it.

We sit upright in the regular meditation posture, cross-legged as seen in some Buddha images, with the right leg resting upon the left. The right hand rests on the left, palms turned upwards, with the right index finger just touching the left thumb. The body is straight and the mind is fully alert. Take a deep breath and relax the body until you feel comfortable. Close your eyelids lightly, do not press them.

In basic samadha practice, we use two aids: the repeated word or mantra (parikamma-bhāvanā) and the object of visualization (parikamma-nimitta). The repetition of the words “sammā arahāṁ,” which is Buddhānusati or remembrance of the Buddha’s virtues, from the anusati category of meditation devices. The object of visualization is a bright, clear luminous sphere called the aloba kasina or light object, from the kasiṇa meditation devices. Using these aids, we draw the mind inward to the centre of the body. Such concentration allows the mind components of vision, memory, thought and awareness to come together into oneness.

Begin by mentally imagining a bright, clear, luminous sphere located just outside your nostril aperture – right at the opening of the nose – for ladies on the left-side, and for gentlemen on the right side. This is the first base at which the mind pauses. Focus your full attention at the centre of the sphere so that the four components of the mind – which are seeing, remembering, thinking and recognizing – come together at one point together with the sphere. It is natural that whenever you see an object with your mind, these four mind components all function together with the object. When you focus your mind at the centre of the sphere, they all come together at that one point. This is the way we calm and concentrate our mind. The mind itself is invisible, but we can use objects visible to the mind to train it.
While your mind is concentrated at the centre of the sphere, recite over and over to yourself the mantra or repeated words “samma araham, samma araham, samma araham.” “Samma” is the Pali word for “Right,” meaning ultimately correct or True. It is the first word of each of the factors in the Noble Eightfold Path – Right speech, Right Action, Right Livelihood, etc. Here, we use it as an abbreviation for “samma sambuddho” meaning Lord Buddha’s Enlightened Wisdom. This recollection amounts to making the wish “May I gain wisdom.” The second word of the mantra is “araham” meaning “purity.” It constitutes remembrance of Lord Buddha’s spotless freedom from defilements and amounts to the wish “May I gain purity.”

Keeping your mind at the centre of the sphere, mentally move the sphere slowly, smoothly, and gently inside the nose, upward through the nose, and over into the inside corner of the eye at the tear duct – for ladies on the left side and for gentlemen on the right side. Don’t worry about the sphere fitting inside the nose – mental objects do not have to fit into physical objects. Rest the sphere in the inside corner of the eye at the tear duct and recite “sammā arahami” to yourself three times. This is the second base for pausing the mind. “sammā arahami, sammā arahami, sammā arahami.”

Next, still keeping your mind at the centre of the sphere, bring the sphere backward to the centre of the head, at eye level. This is the third base. Rest the sphere there and repeat “sammā arahami” three times. “sammā arahami, sammā arahami, sammā arahami.”

From here, we begin to move the sphere downwards. It helps to roll the eyeballs up slightly – just gently, not too much. Keeping our mind at the centre of the sphere, we move the sphere straight to the pallet terminus – the back of the roof of the mouth. Rest the sphere there. This is the fourth base for pausing the mind. Repeat “sammā arahami” three times. “sammā arahami, sammā arahami, sammā arahami.”

We continue the downward journey, bringing the sphere straight downward to the opening of the throat – the top of the throat aperture. Keep your mind at the centre of the sphere, and rest the sphere there. This is the fifth base for pausing the mind. Repeat “sammā arahami” three times. “sammā arahami, sammā arahami, sammā arahami.”

From here, we make the long move straight down to the centre of the body at the navel level – behind the belly button. This is Position Six. It is where the breathing ends. If you take a few deep breaths and observe the breath going down, inside the body, you will see that it ends here.

You can imagine a bright, thin, clear line from the navel straight back to the backbone, and another line crosswise from left to right. These lines meet at the centre of the body. You can also visualize a third line right down the centre of the body, through the throat, crossing the first two. This is the path down which we move the sphere. Slowly, smoothly, gently – down, down, down, down. Keep your mind always at the centre of the sphere, and bring the sphere to rest at this sixth base of the mind. Repeat “sammā arahāṁ” three times. “sammā arahāṁ, sammā arahāṁ, sammā arahāṁ.”

Finally, we make our last short move back upwards, the way we came. Keeping our mind at the centre of the sphere, we move the sphere back up the central pathway to be just about 2 inches or 5 centimetres above the navel. This is the seventh and final base of the mind. This is where we will always meditate in the future. We won’t move the mind anywhere further. Rest your mind inside the sphere at Position Number Seven, and repeat “sammā arahāṁ” three times. “sammā arahāṁ, sammā arahāṁ, sammā arahāṁ.” We have arrived.

This is the mind’s permanent resting or changing place according to wholesome, neutral or unwholesome intentions for right or wrong action or speech. Whenever a person or any other creature is born, dies, sleeps or wakens, the Dhamma Sphere which governs the body arises from the Sixth Base Position. The old Dhamma Sphere drops from the Seventh Base to the Sixth Base and the new sphere pops up from the Sixth Base to the Seventh Base position.

The Dhamma Sphere is composed of the Vision Sphere, the Memory Sphere, the Thought Sphere, and the Awareness Sphere. Keep the bright sphere resting at the centre of the body. Mentally recite the words samma arahāṁ continuously to keep the sphere still and make it become brighter and clearer. Focus your mind at the bright centre of the sphere, and at the bright centre of each successive sphere that emerges. Pay no attention to any external sensation. Do not force the mind too strongly. Do not use the physical eyes to focus on the vision. Always focus on the centre of each new sphere which emerges. Rest the mind there.

Eventually, a bright clear sphere will arise. This is the Dhamma Sphere. Do not be overjoyed. Keep your mind calm in equanimity. Hold the mind still, and stop repeating sammā arahāṁ. Just concentrate at the centre of the Dhamma sphere. This is your own nucleus which gives rise to this body and this mind. You should feel that your mind is in the very purest state it has ever achieved, with firm oneness. You should experience the greatest happiness that you have ever known – not happiness based on an external object, but happiness arising from within. This is due to being fully pure from the Five Hindrances.

If you continue to focus the mind at the centre of the centre of each successive sphere, the centre expands itself naturally. Initially, you see sphere after sphere. Ultimately, you will come to see your own refined human body, which looks like yourself, but is much nicer and is transparent. At this point, you may begin to observe some super-normal abilities such as super-normal vision and hearing. The mind is now alert, razor-sharp, and fully prepared for Vipassanā Meditation. Keep practicing using this same procedure and you will achieve larger and more refined bodies until you reach Dhammakaya.

And now, let us share all of the merit that we have made in this meditation and previously – together with all of our loving kindness – with all beings everywhere throughout the universe. We share with our parents, our grand-parents, our family, our teachers and our friends.

And, we also share with any enemies – anyone with whom we may have disagreement. Let us always remember that we are all brothers and sisters together, here in this world of suffering – through birth, old age, sickness and death. We share with all celestial beings – the angels, the devas, and the brahmans. We share with all the animals and with the beings suffering in Hell, including the ghosts and the demons. May Lord Buddha bless us all to lead a peaceful, happy life, free from suffering, free from problems and free from enmity. And may this meditation help to bring us closer to transcendence and Nirvana.

And, now, we come slowly out of meditation and open the eyes. May Lord Buddha be with all of you.
Resolution for a Successful Life

Virtues such as Generosity (Dāna), Morality (Sīla), Meditation (Bhāvanā), and sharing accumulated merit are enabling me to become free from Defilements (Kilesa), Hindrances (Nīvarana) and Delusion (Vipassanū-pakīlesa). I shall develop the Dhamma Eye and Right Wisdom of the Four Noble Truths to destroy all Mental Intoxicants (Asava), Defilements (Kilesa), Craving (Tānha) and Clinging (Upādāna) to attain the supreme Paths, Fruits, and Nirvana.

May the virtues cited above support me:

1. To comprehend the Tripitaka: Vinaya, Suttanta and Abhidhamma.
2. To be endowed with Right Conduct (Carana 15) and the Factors of Enlightenment (Bodhipakkhiya-dhamma 37) which include the Angel Eye, Angel Ear, Brahman Eye, Wisdom Eye, Dhamma Eye and Buddha Eye as well as the Three Transcendental Sciences (Vijjā 3), Eight Transcendental Arts (Vijjā 8), Six Supernormal Powers (Abhiññā 6), and Four Analytical Insights (Patisambhidā 4). [Those who have taken the Bodhisatta vow to accumulate perfections for Buddhahood may add: “May I be endowed with the Āsayānusaya-ñāna and the Indriyaparopariyatta-ñāna.” These are mental skills for helping world beings.]
3. To see, know and become Dhammakāya which illuminates all conditioned and unconditioned phenomena and leads to Arahaent mentality, the supreme Paths and Fruits, and the Dhammakāya. May I realize both Dying (Dhammakāya) and Living (Primordial) Nirvanas immediately and enlightened Dhammas that should be developed and Dhammas that should be avoided.
4. To attain more and more virtue, holiness, perfection, radiance, energy, supernormal power, power, authority, and decisiveness based on increasing perfection and responsibilities for Buddhism.
5. To overcome all Delusion (Māra) based on craving and wrong view from Defilements (Kilesa-māra), Aggregates (Khanda-māra), Karmic Creations (Abhisankhāra-māra), Deities (Devaputta-māra), and Death (Maccu-māra) so that there will be no opportunity for the Māra and their armies to destroy my accumulation of Perfections and our armies.

6. To fully realize the True Teachings (Dhammas) and to personify Right Thought, Right Speech and Right Action for others so as to protect and preserve the Teachings of the Buddhas forever.

7. To intelligently analyze the causes and effects leading to success and failure to penetrate Truth (Attha) and the True Teachings (Dhamma).

8. To prosper in the four requisites (food, clothing, shelter, and medicine) and conveniences such as vehicles and appliances so that shortages never arise.

9. During my cycles of rebirth, may I be endowed with six treasures of birth (Sampatti) to aid in studying and practicing the Buddha-Dhamma for ending all suffering. May I be born: (1) During the era of a Buddha’s Teachings (Kāla-sampatti), (2) As a Human Being (Jāta-sampatti), (3) In a Buddhist family (Kula-sampatti), (4) In a Buddhist country (Desa-sampatti), (5) With Right View (Ditthi-sampatti), and (6) With a dignified bearing free from physical handicaps (Upadhi-sampatti). May I be like the confirmed Bodhisattas, already announced by a Buddha, who never commit any evil deeds that would lead them to be reborn in the suffering worlds. If I still receive bad resultant karma, may I never be born as one of the 18 types of unfortunate or obstructed beings.¹

10. When reborn as a human being, may I be a man with the chance to ordain in the Buddhist Religion and, when past middle age, may I remain healthy with perfect senses and awareness.

11. May I never associate with a fool, always dwelling with the wise. May I be endowed with the virtues of faith, mindfulness, moral shame and moral dread as well as persistence and patience. May I never attach to sensual objects, but develop Right Morality (Sīla),

¹ (1) Blind, (2) deaf, (3) insane, (4) dumb, (5) deformed, (6) an isolated aborigine, (7) a slave, (8) a misguided fanatic, (9) a female, (10) one who commits a heinous crime, (11) a leper, (12) one with extremely wrong views, (13) an animal smaller than a bird or larger than an elephant, (14) a Khuppipāsika Ghost, a Nījjhānatanhika Ghost, or a Kālakaññikāsurasurakāya Demon, (15) a Devil (Mara deity), (16) a Non-returner (Anagami), (17) a Formless Brahman (Arūpabrahman) or (18) in a universe (cakravala) without any Buddhas.
Right Concentration (Samādhi), Right Wisdom (Paññā), Right Transcendence (Vimutti), and Right Insight (Vimuttiñanadassana).

Phra Mongkol-Thepmuni (Sodh Candasaro)
The Late Abbot of Wat Paknam Bhasicharoen

!Luang Phor Sodh while demonstrating the path to the center of the body

The master of the Vijjā Dhammakāya approach, the late Abbot of Wat Paknam, the Venerable Chao Khun Phra Mongkol-Thepmuni, is fondly known and revered throughout the land as Luang Phor Wat Paknam, or simply as “Luang Phor Yai,” meaning senior father or meditation master.

Luang Phor was born October 10, 1884 (BE 2427) to a humble rice-merchant family of Supanburi Province as Sodh, the second child of Nai Nger and Nang Sudjai Meekaewnoi. As was typical in those days, young Sodh received his education from the temples. At fourteen, when his father died, he became the chief breadwinner for the family. Successful as he was in rice trading, at age nineteen the compassionate young man resolved to become a monk (Bhikkhu) for life.

Having made arrangements to ensure his mother’s welfare, the young man entered monkhood three years later, in July 1906 (BE 2449). At the age of twenty-two, he was ordained as Candasaro Bhikkhu at Wat Songpeenong, near his home. Phra Ajahn Dee of Wat Pratusarn, Supanburi, was his main Preceptor.

The day after his ordination, Candasaro Bhikkhu began meditation practice and study of Pali scriptures in search of deeper and wider knowledge, he moved from Wat Song-peenong to Wat Bodhi (Wat Phra Chetupon Vimonmang-kalaram) in Bangkok. There, he frequented the centers of meditation practice and Pali study.

Soon, Luang Phor was recognized by his teachers, Phra Khru Yanavirati (Po) of Wat Bodhi and Phra Ajahn Singha of Wat Lakorn Tham, as an accomplished meditation instructor.

During those early dry seasons, Luang Phor adopted Dhutangavatara, the Austere Practices for Purification such as wandering in solitude through the forest wilderness, staying in caves and practicing the Dhamma with piety.

After ten years, Luang Phor set aside his informal study of the Pali Scriptures, having reached sufficiency to read the Mahāsatiṭṭhāna Sutta. Thereafter he devoted himself totally to meditation practice.

Luang Phor spent the next Buddhist Lent at Wat Bang Khoo Vieng, on Bangkok Noi Canal, where his benefactor, Phra Ajahn Choom, was the abbot. There, at nightfall on the full-moon day of September, in his twelfth year as a Bhikkhu, Luang Phor prepared himself for meditation in the uposatha. He invoked illumination and guidance, and made a vow dedicating his life to Buddhism. Luang Phor vowed not to rise from his seat in front of the Buddha statue until he was permitted to attain some understanding of the Dhamma as discerned by the Buddha.

With his mind set and its components of vision, memory, thought and cognition all at rest at the center of his body, two “Anguli” (joints of the middle finger) above the navel, Luang Phor was able to penetrate the full depths of the Dhamma as it was revealed to and by the Buddha. That revelation of the Dhamma and ever more refined Dhammakāyas (Dhamma bodies) was so profound that it was only possible when the mind was at rest at the body’s center. After lent, Luang Phor went to teach at Wat Bang Pla, where three monks and four laymen who followed his meditation procedure were also able to attain various degrees of insight. Thereafter, Luang Phor gradually became renowned throughout the land.

Somdej Phra Vanarat, Head of Bhasicharoen Sangha District, spotted Luang Phor’s potential and requested him to assume the Abbotship of Wat Paknam Bhasicharoen. This was a neglected and deteriorating monastery erected five centuries earlier. Luang Phor wanted to decline this request, but he could not. With utmost patience and remarkable leadership, Luang Phor gradually rebuilt the monastery until it is today one of the largest and most important monasteries in the land. In 1949 (BE 2492), Luang Phor received the ecclesiastical rank of Phra Bhavana-Kosolthera. This was followed by the title Phra Mongkol-Rajmuni, and in 1957 (BE 2500) by the title Phra Mongkol-Thepmuni.

Vijjā Dhammakāya, the revelation of the Dhamma as attained by Luang Phor, was the heart of his teaching. His service to Buddhism can be seen from his regular routine:

- Meditating day and night with Bhikkhus and Upāsikās in different sessions.
- Leading Bhikkhus and Sāmaneras in the uposatha every morning and evening, paying homage to the Triple Gems and ending with a sermon.
- Teaching public meditation practice every Thursday at 2:00 pm.
- Delivering public sermons on holy days (Uposatha or Wan Phra) and Sundays.
- Supervising the Pali Institute.

Thus, Luang Phor devoted his time and effort almost exclusively to teaching meditation. His disciples multiplied into the thousands. It was not uncommon for revered bhikkhus in far corners of the country, who apparently never met Luang Phor, to know him well and to respect him as their mentor.

His decease at the age of 75, on February 3, 1959 (BE 2502) was just a pause for the immortal master. His life should serve to remind other mortals to pursue their own obligations to the Noble Path carefully. Luang Phor’s teachings live on, manifesting the Ultimate Righteous Truth.

Ovāda-pāṭimokkha Gāthā โอวาทปฎิโมกขกาต

The Three Admonitions or Exhortations of the Buddha

Khattī paramaṃ tapo tītikhā
Nibbānaṃ paramaṃ vadanti Buddha,
Na hi pabbajito parūpaghāti
Samaṅgo hoti param viheṭhayanto

Patient forbearance is the highest austerity. Liberation is highest: that's what the Buddhas say. He is no monk who harms another; not a contemplative, he who oppresses another.

Sabba-pāpassa akaraṇaṃ Kusalassūpasampadā,
Sacitta-pariyodapanāṃ Etaṃ Buddhāna-sāsanaṃ

The non-doing of all evil, the performance of what is skillful (to do good), the cleansing of one's own mind: this is the Buddhas’ teaching.

Anūpavādo anūpaghāto Pāṭimokkhe ca saṃvaro
Mattāññutā ca bhattachmiṃ Pantaṅca saya-nāsanaṃ Adhicitte ca āyogo Etaṃ Buddhāna-sāsanaṃ.

Not reviling, not injuring, restraint in line with the monastic code, moderation in food, dwelling in seclusion, devotion to the heightened mind: this is the Buddhas’ teaching.

The Buddha gives the Ovādapāṭimokkha Discourse to the assembly of Arahats on Magha Puja day not long after Moggallāna and Sārīputta had been admitted as monks the Buddha held a meeting of the Order on the full moon day of the third lunar month at the Bamboo Grove Monastery in Rajagaha. This meeting of the Order was recognized by later Buddhists as a great event, and the day has become an important Buddhist holiday known as Magha Puja Day.

The meeting of the Buddha's disciples on this day was unlike any other meeting convened during the Buddha’s time in that each of the 1,250 monks in attendance had been ordained personally by the Buddha himself; they had all the same preceptor. All were Arahats. Each had come spontaneously to the meeting without prior appointment. And on that day the Buddha gave the Ovādapāṭimokkha discourse. Thus the meeting of the Order held on that day is also called the caturangasannipata-the meeting with the four special features.
At that time Rajagaha was a center of the state of Magadha. When the Buddha went to stay there the monks who had separated in order to spread the teaching, hearing where the Buddha was, all went there to meet him. Since more than a thousand monks had gathered there, the Buddha called the meeting and gave the Ovādapāṭimokkha address. The Ovādapāṭimokkha is a brief synopsis of the principles of the Buddha's teaching, containing both injunctions and principles for administration of the Order. There are thirteen points in all. They include: Buddhism teaches the giving up of evil, the cultivation of the good, and the purification of the mind; the highest of all teachings is Nibbana, the cessation of defilements and transcendence of suffering; a monk must be restrained, moderate in eating, patient, not disparaging others, not harming others.

At this time, the Buddha had not yet formulated the monastic discipline for administering the Order because no damage had yet arisen in that regard. Thus he only laid down the principles for administering the Order in brief.

Phra Maha Jetiya Somdej

Wat Luang Phor Sodh’s biggest and most important current project is constructing Phra Maha Jetiya Somdej to enshrine sacred Buddha relics, to pay reverence to Lord Buddha, and to prolong the life of Buddhism. The Jetiya is expected to become a major Buddhist pilgrimage site for paying reverence to sacred Buddhist relics.

The Wat has an extraordinary collection of Buddha relics. There are crystal replicas of all seven relics which escaped cremation – the four wisdom teeth, two collar bone pieces, and the forehead piece. The original relics are preserved elsewhere, so these crystal reproductions were materialized and donated by senior celestial beings. In addition, there are numerous genuine relics. These include 115 pearl-sized pieces of Lord Buddha’s breast bone, about 20 very refined hairs of Lord Buddha and many long black hairs of Prince Siddhattha, as well as many smaller granular relics from Lord Buddha and some Arahant disciples.

The relics are not yet on outside public display except on special days. The temple is currently receiving donations to build a very beautiful Jetiya, Phra Maha Jetiya Somdej, for displaying the relics. Construction is currently in phase II. The foundation is laid and the first floor under construction. There will be four floors. The ground floor will house the management offices and provide a place for 2,000 laity to meditate, conduct ceremonies, and hold general conferences. The second floor will be a large meditation hall for 2,000 monks. The third floor will be a museum of important Buddha statues. Finally, the fourth floor will display the Buddha relics.

The estimated ultimate cost, including decorations, is 450 million Baht. This is a unique opportunity for devotees worldwide to participate in one of the most sacred enterprises of modern Buddhism. The Jetiya is destined to preserve the faith and revitalize the faithful for centuries. His Holiness Somdej Phra Buddhacharn, Chairman of the Supreme Sangha Body, is Chairman of the Jetiya Fund Raising Committee. Donating to this magnificent cause is the most effective merit-making opportunity any of us will encounter in this lifetime.
To express gratitude for generous contributions, the temple is offering a variety of very sacred Buddha statues as “Thank You” gifts. Some were received in sacred ceremonies from eminent celestial beings. Others are very rare and extremely valuable antiques Also, the names of those who donate at least 100,000 baht will be engraved in the Jetiya.

There are three methods for making a donation:

1. Directly at Wat Luang Phor Sodh

2. By mailing a crossed check (two diagonal lines in the upper right hand corner) to Wat Luang Phor Sodh, specified for Jetiya construction; and

3. By bank transfer to either

   (3.1) Bangkok Bank Damnoen Saduak Branch Account 422-0-25469-4 for Wat Luang Phor Sodh Jetiya construction, or to

   (3.2) Siam Commercial Bank Damnoen Saduak Branch Account 540-2-18485-8 for Wat Luang Phor Sodh Jetiya construction.

When donating by bank transfer, please fax the bank transfer receipt with a covering letter giving the name, address and fax number of the donor. The Wat fax number is (+66) 032-745-170.
Donations

Wat Luang Phor Sodh Dhammakāyārām gratefully acknowledges the generous contributions of the following donors whose munificent financial support made this publication and its incalculable contribution to the dissemination of the Dhamma possible. May Lord Buddha bless them all and all their good works.

“This, O Bhikkhu, is here the distinction; this is the peculiarity of, and the difference between an instructed noble disciple and an uninstructed worldling.”

Thus said the Exalted One, and the Blessed One and Master spoke yet again:

“Loss and gain, obscurity and fame,
Praise and blame, happiness and pain,
These things are transient in the life of man,
Inconstant and are bound to change.
The mindful and wise one discerns them well
And is observant of their constant change
Things pleasant do not stir his mind
And those unpleasant do not irritate.
All likes and dislikes are dispensed by him;
Having come to an end, and are no more.
Awe now of a stainless, griefless state;
Beyond existence gone, he fully knows.”
